MISSION STATEMENT

The Garden Club Federation of Massachusetts, Inc., is dedicated to assisting our member clubs with education and appreciation of Horticulture, Landscape and Floral Design, Gardening and Environmental concerns.

President's Message

‘Plant America: Start With a Seed’

Now that we have cleaned out our gardens, or not, depending on your philosophy, and cleaned and put away our tools, we can turn our minds to seed and bulb catalogues, and to the planning of our spring gardens. We spend our winters with lots of hot tea and plenty of marvelous books that suggest to us how our yards and gardens might look. We aspire to the teaching of our fall speakers, knowing just the right way to prune that shrub or to clear the way for a new one—surely to be the star of our garden. However, before we get to points beyond the cold and into the possibility of actual snowy weather I'd like to consider a few things.

The Federation hosted the Fall Conference on October 25th at the Boxborough Regency. Those in attendance were fortunate to hear from two inspirational speakers from GCFM Clubs on what they and their Clubs, both individually and as a group, have achieved in the name of civic works. We heard a compelling presentation on climate change and its effect on both Local and Global habitats; I know that I'd be ‘preaching to the choir’ to say that this is something that needs our attention. The afternoon was capped off with 3 of our seasoned and admired designers creating ‘explanatory’ floral arrangements from the new ‘Flower Show Handbook’. If you weren't able to attend this fall meeting, you missed a big day. I hope to see you in June!

I have been at this position almost a half year now. I have had some great experiences visiting, and honoring Clubs. I have met so many members who were unfamiliar to me and have enjoyed getting to know better so many others. Our membership in the Commonwealth is over ELEVEN THOUSAND strong! Certainly the envy of New England. I want to hear from you, and I would be delighted to have us work together to make a stronger Federation. I have gleaned a lot from my visits thus far and I hope to continue to report and share on the great things happening in our Districts and communities. Every day I feel like I have so much more to learn and so much to be thankful for. I hope that you do too.

Even as we look towards Spring, do not forget that Winter can be a wonderful season for your clubs to come together to share ideas and traditions, and to do good work for the community. We may long for crocuses and daffodils, but make the most of our cold, short days. Do not forget to enjoy the season and all it brings with it, from the bright poinsettias to the cheerful cardinals. After all, my soon to-be-planted paperwhite bulbs remind me—start with a seed.

Suzanne

COVER STORY

Aronia arbutifolia 'Brilliantissima'

Aronia arbutifolia is commonly known as chokeberry, which refers to the tart and bitter berries. They are technically edible but are so astringent as to cause choking if you try.

Chokeberry is native to eastern North America (Nova Scotia and Ontario to Ohio south to Texas and Florida, Zones 4-9). It is deciduous multi-stemmed shrub that likes both wet and dry thickets. It grows in a vase-shaped form 6 – 8' tall and 3 – 4' wide and likes full sun. It has five-petaled, white to light pink flowers that appear in April and last about a week. Fruits ripen in late summer and persist throughout fall and well into winter.

The leaves are 3 1/2" long and elliptical to oblong in shape with a glossy dark green color above and a grayish-green color beneath. The foliage turns bright red in autumn and is a great replacement for the invasive Burning Bush (Euonymus alata). The variety 'Brilliantissima' has great, bright-red fall color (sometimes having a mix of red, purple, and orange) and is considered superior for its larger more abundant fruit and more compact habit.

Chokeberry, which can be leggy, is best planted in groups or massed in shrub borders or woodland areas. Its ability to withstand wet conditions makes it suitable for growing on the margins of ponds or streams.

There are no serious insect or disease problems, but there is some susceptibility to leaf spots and twig/fruit blight.

In Memoriam Caroline Nijenberg

On October 15, 2017 the Federation lost a member and good friend, Caroline Nijenberg. Caroline served as GCFM 2nd Vice President from 2013 to 2015 and as GCFM 1st Vice President from 2015 to 2017. She was unable to move on as GCFM President due to health issues. Prior to becoming an officer, Caroline ran four courses of Gardening Study School from 2009 to 2013. Caroline was a Master Gardening Consultant and Master Landscape Design Consultant.

Caroline lived in Lexington for 42 years, and her love of gardening led her to becoming a member of the Lexington Field & Garden Club where she eventually served as president. She was also a member of the club's subgroup, Wednesday Workshop, and served as its chairman. She was a member of the Hancock Church in Lexington and served on multiple committees including the Ministerial Search Committee for the present Senior Minister. For several years she was also the church's representative to the Massachusetts Conference of the United Church of Christ.

Caroline was born in Galesburg, Illinois. She and her husband Wim (see picture below) were a devoted couple who enjoyed traveling together and built their own business, Travel to Europe. Caroline spent many years as a freelance travel writer sharing her experiences from traveling to over 50 countries.

What made Caroline special was her personality. Her warm smile, soft spoken voice and big heart endeared her to all who knew her. She was extremely competent in a quiet, gracious way. She may have been small in stature, but she was tall in what mattered. All who knew her feel an extreme loss on her passing.

DISTRICT DOINGS

CENTRAL NORTH DISTRICT (Joyce Fricke, Director)

Acton Garden Club held its annual plant sale in May; club members potted over 1,600 plants. In June the board hosted a program on tea ceremonies followed by a high tea. The club's July meeting was held in the historic Acton Arboretum Herb Garden, which is maintained by the club; Herb Garden Committee members spoke about the medicinal, edible and fragrant herbs grown in the Colonial-era garden.

Boxborough Garden Club had a busy summer. In May the club visited the Harvard Museum of Natural History in Cambridge, MA to view the glass flowers collection. June was marked by a celebration at the Red Robin restaurant in Acton. Throughout June and July members worked at the town's Colonial Herb Garden, a public heritage site designed, constructed and maintained by the club.

Pepperell Garden Club President Terry Geddes and member Jeanne Nivard received a Continuing Project Award from the GCFM recognizing the club's flower garden at the Pepperell rotary, a focal point in the town. The site was originally designed and planted in 1985.

Sudbury Garden Club's annual spring plant sale was a success, helping to fund club programs, civic beautification projects, community outreach and scholarships. Later in the summer the club bid farewell to former president and 45-year member Polly Meltzer, who moved to Florida; Polly was given a photo album recapping her many contributions.

Sudbury GC celebrated long-standing member Polly Metzler, who relocated

Despite sweltering weather, members of The Thursday Garden Club of Sudbury had a successful cleanup at Grinnell Park, as well as at the Sudbury Public Library Children's Discovery Garden.

CENTRAL SOUTH DISTRICT (Ruth Evans, Director)

Framingham Garden Club members have been busy restoring the garden at the Saxonville Dam, maintaining the historic Cushing Chapel grounds, and tending the native plant pollinator garden in Nobscot. The club also awarded college scholarships to three Framingham High School seniors.

Over the summer Holliston Garden Club redid the garden behind the Holliston Public Library. Members Joan Butler and Toni Neal led the redesign team, with many members pitching in at planting time. Old trees and shrubs were replaced by a beautiful pollinator garden.

Members of the Greenleaf Garden Club of Milford held their annual banquet at Southwick Zoo, the largest zoological park in New England. Summer excursions included tours of the Gardens at Elm Bank in Wellesley and Green Animals Gardens in RI.

Natick Garden Club hosted a booth at the Earth Day Fair on the town common. Under the watchful eye of Dani Newland, a new club member, children molded seed balls to take home and plant in their own gardens. There was also a bean toss garden game designed by member Laurie Adelstein. As the club continues working to grow its membership, the event also provided an opportunity to talk with parents and other event attendees.

Garden Club of Norfolk members are continuing to help revitalize the butterfly garden at the Massachusetts Audubon Society Stony Brook Wildlife Sanctuary. In 2016 the Massachusetts Master Gardener Association (MMGA) awarded the club a grant to help with the cost of adding more pollinator plants. The resulting garden now provides a quiet haven for visitors to relax and observe the flowers and the pollinators.

Entrance to the Stony Brook pollinator garden, maintained by the Norfolk GC and other volunteers

Members of Northborough Garden Club recently enjoyed a walk in the woods at the estate of a local friend. Features included large sculptures, statuary, a small waterfall, a brook and a peaceful rest area. The grounds were sprinkled with small glass crystals that reflected the sunshine.

Spring/summer were busy times for

Springfield Garden Club. In March a “vintage tea” luncheon celebrated the club’s 100th anniversary; 2015-17 GCFM President Betty Sanders, Springfield Mayor Dominic Sarno and Parks Department head Patrick Sullivan were among the guests. In May the club’s annual plant sale raised over $2,500 for the scholarship fund. The club’s June garden tour was attended by over 200 visitors.

METRO DISTRICT (Ruth Kenworthy Ecker and Fawn Hurwitz, Co-Directors)

Medfield Garden Club had a busy May with three activities: “Succulent Gardens in Tea Cups,” a presentation by Kim Cook from Briggs Nursery; the club’s annual plant sale; and a visit to the Frederick Law Olmsted National Historic Site in Brookline. In June members toured the Wellesley College Greenhouses and Arboretum, followed in July by a visit to the edible gardens at Tower Hill Botanic Garden.

Norwood Evening Garden Club concluded its 20th anniversary celebration with an event at the town’s DAV Park, attended by members of the Norwood Board of Selectmen Helen Abdallah-Donohue and Paul Bishop, as well as Director of Public Works Mark Ryan. The club donated a Stewartia pseudocamellia tree to commemorate its 20-year partnership with the town. Donohue, Bishop and Ryan each thanked the garden club for its beautification efforts along the Washington Street corridor.

May 22 was Planting Day in Central Park, Wellesley Square, sponsored by The House & Garden Club of Wellesley. Since last season, sun exposure at the park has changed dramatically due to the removal of several diseased trees. Club members converged on the park to install new sun-loving native plants, chosen in consultation with the town's Parks Division. Central Park is also home to a sculpture, "Girl and Her Butterfly," commissioned by the club and executed by Wellesley artist Merrilyn D. Marsh.

This sculpture was commissioned by The House & GC of Wellesley and installed in the town's Central Park.

The Evening Garden Club of West Roxbury closed out the year with a tour of the gardens at the historic Loring Greenough House in Jamaica Plain. Highlights included some venerable old trees and a visit to the perennial beds lining the mansion's formal entrance. Loring Greenough is on the Tory Trail: Boston area properties that were home to British Loyalists during the Revolutionary War. Loring Greenough's garden recently won

2nd place in the Boston Mayor's Garden Contest, Storefront/Organization/Main Street District Garden Division.

MIDDLESEX DISTRICT (Joanne Lyons, Director)

At the Lexington Field & Garden Club's annual luncheon, town Selectmen Doug Lucente and Joe Pato read a proclamation declaring May 10, 2017 to be "Lexington Field & Garden Club Day" and urging "all citizens to celebrate the service and dedication of the oldest garden club in the nation to make Lexington the beautiful place it is." The club was founded in 1876.

The Board of Selectmen of the Town of Lexington proclaimed May 10th "Lexington Field & Garden Club Day."

Stoneham Garden Club had a busy summer. Members continue to work in the Whip Hill perennial garden and at the Police Circle garden. The club also partners with the Stoneham Junior Library to run a successful Junior Garden Club; young members learned about transplanting by working on the library grounds. The club's biggest project of the summer was the planting of a juniper tree at the Firefighters' Memorial. The grand finale was a tour of the firehouse.

Waltham Garden Club members were treated to a fun hat-making workshop led by former club President Alexis Shaw. Members decorated straw hats with silk flowers and ribbons...and then wore the hats to the club's annual dinner.

NORTHEASTERN DISTRICT (Nancy Davidge, Director)

Following their plant sale, The Friendly Garden Club of Beverly gifted $500 worth of "leftover" plant materials to Rest. Stop. Ranch., a Topsfield sanctuary for people with disabilities and their caregivers. With seven accessible horticultural areas, the retreat provides a venue for therapeutic programs. For more information, visit Rest-Stop-Ranch.com.

Hamilton-Wenham Garden Club's May plant sale included a special table for junior gardeners with plants "free for the taking (and learning)!" The club's June year-end celebration dinner included awards for several members. In July club members decorated civic planters with flags, contributing to the July 4th festivities in both Hamilton and Wenham. Below: A table at Hamilton Wenham GC's plant sale offered free plants for young attendees.

The Arrangers of Marblehead won two blue ribbons at Boston's 2017 Flower & Garden Show: first place in both Division One and in the club competition for their division. In July, member Karen Fitzgerald shared a slide presentation entitled "Celebrating the Lunar Year in Viet Nam through Flowers."

In July members of Driftwood Garden Club (Marblehead) visited Newport, Rhode Island's Blue Garden, which was designed by the Olmsted Brothers firm. Hidden behind a dense border of greenery, this "secret" garden fell into disrepair in the 1940s following the owners' deaths. Restoration began in 2012, using original plans and remaining structures. A private garden, it is open by appointment.

Over 500 visitors strolled the 15 private gardens featured in Salem Garden Club's July 8th McIntire Historic District garden tour, entitled "Stroll through the Gardens of Salem."

NORTHERN DISTRICT (Marsha Ledbury, Director)

Andover Garden Club actively seeks new members and was delighted to welcome a half dozen into the fold this past club year.

Spade and Trowel Garden Club (Andover) enjoyed their annual dinner meeting at Palmer's Restaurant. It was an evening of engaging and friendly dialogue, including awards and recognitions. Outgoing and incoming GCFM Northern District Directors Donna Vallois and Marsha Ledbury attended as guests. The club also celebrated the contributions made over the years by member Lorraine Kerwin, who has moved to Maine.

In July Billerica Garden Club stepped back in time, attending a tour of the historic Lillian Dutton Memorial Herb Garden, which is maintained by the Bedford Garden Club. The garden is part of the Job Lane House property, a memorial to the character of the area's early colonists.

Billerica GC members toured the herb garden at Job Lane House, Bedford

The Country Lane Garden Club (Chelmsford) held its annual spring plant sale at the First Parish UU Church. The sale featured plants from members' gardens as well as peonies from Sunny Meadow Farm, which is operated by the Chelmsford Open Space Stewardship. The event is popular for its bargains and for the gardening advice available from club members. Proceeds from 2017 sales were among the highest ever achieved, with close to 500 plants sold.

Country Lane GC (Chelmsford) held a successful plant sale.

Members of Dracut Garden Club met at former President Donna Vallois' house for their annual pot luck and garden tour. To raise money for the Dracut Food Pantry, attendees took part in a "pound auction" with each person elaborately gift-wrapping something (trash or treasure) that weighed about a pound: everything from gourmet chocolates to the latest best-selling gardening book to a bag of mulch. Lisa Bourgeois was auctioneer, trying to get bids as high as possible for the mystery packages. Clearly her approach worked: almost $500 was raised for the food pantry.

North Andover Garden Club celebrated 90 years as a federated club at its annual meeting. Member Birgit Blass produced a movie using club photos from the archives. Each member received a keepsake memory book compiled by member Leslie Frazier from stories and memories submitted by current and former members. Certificates of recognition were presented by North Andover Selectman Dick Vaillancourt and GCFM President Suzanne McCance.

Tewksbury Garden Club enjoyed a guided tour of Lowell Cemetery, which is listed on the National Register of Historic Places and is one of the oldest garden cemeteries in the nation. The monuments, sculptures and gardens were spectacular.

In addition to sponsoring the award-winning Grow Spring! EXPO, Topsfield Garden Club members ran two spring programs for students at Proctor Elementary School:

"The Tomato Project" for fifth graders focused on the value of locally-sourced food. Club members raised over 400 heirloom tomato plants that were donated to students, school gardens and administrators/teachers.

The club's Arbor Day program for fourth graders gave each student a tree seedling to take home to plant.

Fifth graders show off some of the heirloom tomato plants donated by the Topsfield GC.

New Meadows Garden Club of Topsfield held a flower arranging workshop at the home of President Shirley Holt. Flowers were either purchased or cut from members' gardens. Participants felt it was a good ice-breaker for members who are hesitant to think of themselves as floral designers.

SOUTHERN DISTRICT (Gail Reilly, Director)

The Southern District held its annual July flower show at Heritage Museum and Gardens. The event, "Endless Summer," celebrated hydrangeas and included 264 horticulture exhibits, as well as 92 exhibits in design, artistic crafts, photography and education. Every club in the District participated.

Aptuxcet Garden Club of Bourne launched a new activity this past spring called "Ask and Answer": a group of interested members visits the garden of another member for the purpose of brainstorming about a particular problem or concern. The result has been shared knowledge and friendship-building.

In May The Garden Club of Hyannis hosted a Standard Flower Show entitled "Love and Marriage." The event was the culmination of two years' of design workshops taught by member Gail Hubacker. Gail and Dolores Ahern wrote the show's schedule in a way that encouraged inexperienced workshop graduates to try their newfound floral design skills. As another incentive for new designers, accredited judges were not allowed to enter design classes. The club reports that the creativity was amazing.

Door wreath by GC of Hyannis member Debbie Faulconer

In early May, Osterville Garden Club held a small Standard Flower Show, "The Next Chapter," at the Village Library. Designers were asked to interpret the name of a book or poem. Following judging, the public was invited to view the exhibits. Chairpersons for the event were Susan Dewey and Cate Gulliver.

Marian Nicastro, winner of "Best in Show" at the Osterville GC's recent event

Plymouth Garden Club launched a new program last winter at the Nathaniel Morton Elementary School. Students received instruction in how to prepare the soil in their new raised bed gardens, as well as how to care for seeds and seedlings. Club members donated tools, hoses and a compost bin. The club also provided financial support for materials, including two trees for containers at the school entrance. Plymouth GC members also planted a tree at the school on Arbor Day; each 5th grader received a tree seedling to take home.

The Evening Garden Club of Plymouth had a busy summer: $500 was donated to the Plymouth Public Library to help fund a garden bench at the Manomet Branch. For the second year, members transformed the back of the Plymouth Art Center into a fairy garden; a new club member volunteered to be the fairy queen. Over the club's summer hiatus, members toured Cochato Nursery, Holbrook, and took part in a tour presented by Tranquil Lake Nursery, Rehoboth, for over 60 gardeners from all over New England.

Taunton Garden Club planted and will help maintain a garden at a memorial to beloved former Mayor of Taunton, Charles Crowley. A local historian, Crowley frequently gave presentations to the club, including as part of their 75th and 80th anniversary celebrations.

SOUTH SHORE DISTRICT (Roni Bache Lahage, Director)

Easton Garden Club hosted a summer garden tour, "Back to Our Roots." The event showcased unique gardens belonging to five members and also included a bonus tour of historic Queset Gardens. The club distributed educational information and ran a garden boutique stocked with items created or donated by members.

Easton GC's garden tour featured a fun boutique.

The Hingham Garden Club sponsored a late spring tour entitled "Garden Inspirations." Participants toured eight unique gardens: large and small, sunny and shady. In addition to the beautiful plants, each garden featured a horticultural inspiration.

wore festive hats. To keep area plantings healthy and happy, watering was a top summer priority. The club just celebrated its 50th anniversary and is looking forward to the coming decades.

Hull GC members wore festive hats to the club's annual luncheon.

At Scituate Garden Club's annual meeting, members each were given a newly-introduced hosta seedling, H. 'Scituate Sunrise,' a fitting memento of the club's 100th anniversary.

*Above, right; Scituate GC marked the end of its 100th anniversary celebration by giving each member H. 'Scituate Sunrise,' a new hosta seedling.*

Weymouth Garden Club's annual plant sale featured demonstrations by two members: how to divide an overgrown house plant and how to create an annual plant basket. A "Kids Can Grow" area offered workshops on seed planting and re-growing vegetables from root ends. Face painting and coloring sheets were available for "kids" of all ages.

2017 National Garden Clubs, Inc. Poster Contest!

Smokey Bear Theme:
"Only You can Prevent Wildfires"

Woodsy Owl Theme:
*"Lend a hand,
Care for the Land"*

Open to children in first through fifth grade

Deadline January 8, 2018

Contact Massachusetts Poster contest co-chairman
Bonni L. Dinneen - bonni.dinneen@gmail.com

The U.S. Department of Agriculture Forest Service and the National Garden Clubs, Inc. are giving students the opportunity to demonstrate through original drawings of Smokey Bear or Woodsy Owl their understanding of wildfire prevention and basic environmental conservation principles.

Only You Can Prevent Wildfires!

Smokey Bear is recognized nationally and internationally as the symbol for fire prevention. The original Smokey Bear appeared in 1944. Smokey's message, "Only You Can Prevent Wildfires!" encourages personal responsibility for fire prevention. Smokey Bear teaches children and adults to be careful with campfires, barbecues, trash fires, and matches.

Lend a Hand, Care for the Land!

Woodsy Owl is America's icon for the conservation of the environment. Since 1971, Woodsy has helped parents and teachers inspire children to observe, explore, and care for the environment. He challenges children to "Lend a Hand, Care for the Land!" and to take an active role in caring for the land through recycling, reusing, and reducing waste, planting and caring for trees, using resources wisely, and not littering.
