

Carolyn Foster

Shortly after Carolyn Foster's arrival July 31st, she fell in her apartment and required hip surgery. She has made a quick recovery aided by her children, who came from all parts of the U.S. to assist her. Born in Rhode Island and being a military wife, Carolyn has lived in many places. Her husband, Bob, was an officer in the Navy Supply Corps for 26 years.

Their moves included Norfolk, Washington, DC, Port Washington, NY, Georgia, and Hawaii. Two girls, Karen and Lisa, were born in New England and Nancy and Lori in Hawaii. Carolyn adapted readily saying, "The place you live becomes the place you make of it." Two years at Harvard grad school were followed by the Supply School in Athens, GA. It was there they met Bob and Sue Evans, also Patriots Colony residents. Their son, David, was born in Athens, and the last addition, Beth, arrived in Rhode Island.

Carolyn and Bob's last residence was in Mt. Dora, FL. Bob died three years ago, but they had visited Williamsburg and liked what they saw. Recently her son, Bob, convinced Carolyn to make the move to Patriots Colony. Carolyn hopes to get back to dabbling in genealogy; and she loves to read. A former Garden Club president, she likes to work with flowers. Enjoy getting to know this positive and gracious lady.
