

New Signs for Sigourney Square Park

Thanks to The Friends of Sigourney Square Park, the Park will be getting new signs soon. A new design for all the City parks that started with George Day Park in Parkville will come next to Sigourney Square Park.

The signs include a large four-sided sign with the park name and then several two sided signs with the name on one side and rules or hours on the reverse side. A special sign with pertinent rules will be near the splash pad.

Planning for the new signs and the design began about a year ago, and funding has been secured to complete nearly all of the originally planned signs. Only the History Sign will be delayed until further funds can be located. Photos of the existing signs at George Day park can be seen at <https://goo.gl/photos/CkEzKNw6KpgZDZ2W9>
