Take the Fear Out of International Shipping

10:00am on May 10, 2017 in Oshkosh

Managing your small package international shipments doesn't have to be complicated

Learn to control your international shipments by directly coordinating your documents with transportation rules and procedures. FedEx is here to help businesses and individuals easily get the customs documents they need to ship internationally. They offer several easy-to-use, web-based applications and training designed to relieve the stress of trying to pull together documents for international shipments and provide access to past document requests.

What exactly is the Automated Commercial Environment (ACE)?

The Automated Commercial Environment is the commercial trade processing system currently under development by U.S. Customs and Border Protection (CBP), which provides a single, centralized access point to connect CBP, Partner Government Agencies (PGAs), and the trade community.

Having the right information for international documentation. The principal difference between selling a product in the U.S. and selling it internationally is the amount of export documentation involved. Learn more and determining the right international documents needed to successfully ship internationally.
