The Latest Products and Techniques for Indirect Restorations

An important factor for a successful indirect restoration is the quality of the final impression. Studies have shown that your choice of impression materials and procedure can positively impact office productivity and patient comfort through reduced crown adjustment and seating time. This course will offer insight to the dental professional to ensure optimal outcomes for your final restoration. Course content will include the introduction of Lava Esthetic®, 3M Oral Care’s new zirconia offering that is beautiful enough for the anterior and fluoresces like natural teeth.

Course Objectives:
- Indirect Restorations - crown and bridge preparations
- Retraction, impressioning, temporization and cementation
- What’s new in dental materials

Dr. James Braun pursued the D.D.S. program at the University of Michigan and after graduation he earned a Masters degree in Prosthodontics from the same institution. Upon returning to his hometown of Saginaw Michigan, he established a full-time private practice specializing in Prosthodontics, which has been in continuation for over 25 years. Staff appointments have included the University of Michigan School of Dentistry and hospitals in Ann Arbor and Saginaw, Michigan.

For over 10 years, Dr. Braun has offered seminars at a great number of national and international meetings. Presentations have been made to over twenty A.D.A. affiliated state dental associations and have also included the A.D.A. Annual Session, Greater New York Meeting, and the Chicago Mid-Winter Meeting. Besides his lecture series, he has conducted numerous hands-on workshops, webinars and published a variety of articles on esthetic restorative dentistry for journals and magazines. Several major dental manufacturing companies utilize his professional skills on a consultant basis for the development of new products. Dr. Braun continues to be selected by “Dentistry Today” as one of the top clinicians in dental continuing education.
