JEFF SANGALLI ANNOUNCED AS MONTY'S NEW CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICER

Louisville, KY (April 11, 2018) – Monty's Plant Food Company, a leader in natural soil enhancement and plant fertility products, is pleased to announce Jeff Sangalli as their new Chief Executive Officer. Sangalli brings over 22 years of experience in technology development, commercialization, manufacturing, and supply chain in both the agriculture and consumer electronics industries.

Sangalli assumes the role as part of Monty's management restructuring plan designed to support its future growth initiatives both domestically and internationally. Monty's former CEO, Kevin Voss, is now President of International Business Development spearheading Monty's global expansion initiative in agriculture, remediation, animal nutrition, and oil and gas.

"We have spent many years developing both the domestic and international markets," said Sangalli. This plan will enable Monty's to continue not only on the agricultural path, but support adjacent markets where our experience and technology can be leveraged."

Monty's manufactures, markets, and supplies innovative sustainable soil restoration, plant nutrients, and specialty enhancement products to growers around the world. These products incorporate unique advanced chemistry, which improve crop yields, plant quality, and soil health. Domestically, many of Monty's products are utilized by high yield growers and have been part of programs that have produced 500+ bushel corn and 100+ bushel soybeans on farms around the United States.

"Monty's is an incredibly innovative and nimble company", said Sangalli. "It's exciting to be part of a company that is seeing such incredible growth both in the United States and globally."
