Alamo Crane Service is one of only 45 companies receiving the top safety award of over 68,000 Texas Mutual policyholders across the state. To qualify for this honor, a company must demonstrate its commitment to workplace safety by implementing an exemplary safety program, have an exemplary safety record and by controlling workers compensation losses. "This award recognizes companies for their dedication to workplace safety and their commitment to the safety of their employees" says J.D Rich of Texas Mutual, "we award the Best in Class, we also recognize the strong management commitment by the company, their motto is safety, it's a way of life."

"With our high safety standards, we have our own in-house safety education program, which is mandatory for each and every employee" stated Alamo Crane's COO, Marvin Ohlenbusch, "it's our safety culture and our constant focus on managing risk and an all-encompassing safety program that each member of our team is constantly engaged in, it says a lot to receive a prestigious award from the largest provider of workers compensation insurance in the state."

Craig Nash is the Safety Director, and attributes the program's success to an overall team effort of the entire workforce, including Texas Mutual and Coverica, the company's insurance consultant. "We know that a successful crane lift is a safe lift, so it's always safety first, we employ more than 78 people and amassed over 250,000 work hours this year, so our safety culture is a proactive function with ongoing training. With the changing safety, regulatory and technology landscapes have given us opportunities to both educate and provide superior service for our customers."

"We believe our employees are the best in the industry and they put safety ahead of everything else."
