

Skyline Properties Expands its Office Footprint in Manhattan

September 20, 2018 06:40PM

Skyline Properties, an “off market” commercial investment sales firm has expanded its office footprint by more than three times with its move to the 31st floor in SL Green’s “Daily News Building” at 220 East 42nd Street to accommodate more space for the firms growing investment sales team and additional support staff. The firm has already hired 2 new brokers, an Analyst as well as a facilities manager to streamline the firm’s growth.

“Currently we are looking to hire charismatic and ambitious individuals to join our growing investment sales team who we prefer to train in house”, said Daniel Shirazi, EVP.

Since its inception in May of 2013, Skyline Properties has sold in excess of $1 Billion in commercial real estate. The firm's success is accredited to its strict focus on off-market opportunities; Skyline Properties avoids the often-time-consuming process of obtaining exclusive listings, thus making the firm more agile giving it the ability to discuss opportunities tailored to fit each buyer's unique acquisition criteria while providing sellers with complete discretion.
