Welcome Edina Community Members to the 5th Annual Pre-AP English 10 Passion Project Fair!

The Pre-AP English 10 Passion Project Fair is the culmination of a yearlong process that began in September. In the early weeks of the school year, members of the sophomore class were asked to identify a topic about which they were passionate and wanted to learn more. Their passions varied from rising sea levels to net neutrality to steroid use in Major League Baseball.

Next, students began conducting research, outlining their ideas, drafting and, eventually, putting the finishing touches on their Passion Project papers. Today, the students will share with you just a fraction of what they learned while writing their papers, the action that they took through a service learning project related to their topic, as well as why their selected topic is their passion.

When: April 19th, 2017

Time: 9:00am – 1:00pm ~ All Are Welcome!

Where: EHS Media Center & Commons

Who: All are welcome – sign in at Main Entrance Door 3

Thank you for attending. We hope you enjoy learning about the passions of the sophomore class – and maybe discover a new passion of your own!

Sincerely,

The Pre-AP English 10 Team:
Daniel Amborn, Joe Deckenbach, Kari Discher, Elizabeth Hillstrom, Tim Klobuchar, Sally Larkins, Beth Mohs, Joelle Reiling, Jackie Roehl, Amanda Schimmelpfenning, Melody Taylor & Edina High School’s Class of 2019
The Pre-AP English 10 Passion Project Fair is the culmination of a yearlong process that began in September. In the early weeks of the school year, members of the sophomore class were asked to identify a topic about which they were passionate and wanted to learn more. Their passions varied from rising sea levels to net neutrality to steroid use in Major League Baseball.

Next, students began conducting research, outlining their ideas, drafting and, eventually, putting the finishing touches on their Passion Project papers. Today, the students will share with you just a fraction of what they learned while writing their papers, the action that they took through a service learning project related to their topic, as well as why their selected topic is their passion.

The paper component of the assignment, which gave students an opportunity to develop their research, writing, and citation skills, meets the following Common Core standards:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Common Core Standard</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>9.5.1.1, 9.7.1.1 &amp; 9.7.9.9: Sufficient textual evidence is drawn from information texts to logically support claims.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>9.5.2.2: Understanding of central ideas and supporting details is reflected in the paper and its organization.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>9.5.7.7 &amp; 9.9.7.7: Information from a variety of sources was critically analyzed and integrated into the paper.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>9.7.7.7: Sustained research project shows in-depth understanding of the subject matter.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>9.7.8.8: Gather credible information and integrate into the paper while avoiding plagiarism.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Thank you for attending. We hope you enjoy learning about the passions of the sophomore class – and maybe discover a new passion of your own!

Sincerely,

The Pre-AP English 10 Team:
Daniel Amborn, Joe Deckenbach, Kari Discher, Elizabeth Hillstrom, Tim Klobuchar, Sally Larkins, Beth Mohs, Joelle Reiling, Jackie Roehl, Amanda Schimmelpfenning, Melody Taylor & Edina High School’s Class of 2019