

Annual Training Conference July 25—27, 2018
The Hotel Ithaca
222 South Cayuga Street
Ithaca, New York 14850

Encouraging Change through Accountability,
Guidance, Compassion, Officer Self-Care and Resiliency to Promote Public Safety, Strengthen Communities, Protect and Change Lives.

Welcome to Ithaca!

Our conference has been well attended by Probation Officers throughout the State of New York and other officers from other agencies are welcome to attend. Many attendees consider it the best probation officer training offered. Each year the conference committee works diligently to seek presenters that are innovative, captivating, and willing to present pertinent information pertaining to our profession.

Wednesday, July 25th Session 1, 8:30am–10:00am

1. Workshop Title: Compassion Fatigue: Preventing Burnout in Line Staff
Presenter: Dr. Lacey Berumen, PhD, MNM, LAC, ADS
Director of Behavioral Sciences of TRACKtech, LLC

Attendees will be able to understand how our work has impacted our lives • Be able to understand the elements of Compassion Fatigue • Be able to understand officer resilience • And finally be able to apply the ethics of self-care through the process of developing a narrative.

2. Workshop Title: Making a Difference for Probation Officers through Legislative Involvement
Presenter: Larry Evans, NYSPOA Legislative Chair “Legislative Larry,” Probation Officer (Broome County)

This workshop is intended to be an introduction to the legislative process and how it affects probation practices. It will include a historical perspective of the yearly Budget impact and legislative initiatives. It will be viewed through the perspective of how the NYSPOA’s Legislative Committee insures there is a voice for line Probation Officers in Albany by its involvement in the various aspects of legislative action and the educating of lawmakers. This workshop is ultimately meant to offer any Probation Officer the opportunity to be involved in the future of Probation in New York State.

3. Workshop Title: Reality Based Training in Law Enforcement
Presenters: Peter Brunett, Law Enforcement Program Coordinator
Officer Brian Bannerman (Rochester Police Department)

Describe reality based training and how to safely and effectively implement reality based training to prepare your officers to practice important skills necessary during violent encounters.

Wednesday, July 25th Session 2, 10:30am–12:00pm

1. Workshop Title: Not My Problem, But You Are the Solution!
Presenters: Veronica Glueck, Probation Officer (Westchester County)
Gladys Larson, Sr. Probation Officer (Tompkins County)

Think back to when you accepted your job and took the oath, or back to when you decided this was the field that you wanted to work in. You envisioned doing great things to help and protect people. Then after a few years of spinning your wheels and getting burned you became less optimistic and decided that "it's not my problem and not for me to fix."

Most people choose this unique career because of personal experiences, ones that "called" you to this profession. We can't let the job get the best of us. It is easy to become jaded and to forget why we do what we do. We need to help each other to be the solution, to make our jobs easier. To remember why we chose this job in the first place.

As we build each other up, we become more effective. In order to be effective we need to care for ourselves and others and exercise compassion. We will explore ways in which this can be accomplished without blurring the lines and remaining true to ourselves and our profession.

2. Workshop Title: The Pleasure Principle: Why addictions are so challenging when working with the offender population?

Presenter: Dr. Lacey Berumen, PhD, MNM, LAC, ADS

Director of Behavioral Sciences of TRACKtech, LLC

This workshop will provide attendees with a review of the brain and how addiction impacts various parts of the brain. We will focus on the impact of marijuana and opiates on the brain and review current treatment opportunities, including a review of medication-assisted therapies.

3. Workshop Title: Weapons Recognition for Field Officers and Pre-Sentence Investigators

Presenter: Jason Mindler, Probation Officer (Genesee County), General Topics and Firearms Instructor

The workshop will familiarize the field supervision officer with basic firearms information in order to accurately identify them in reports, recognize safety concerns, and assist the officers in making appropriate referrals to other law enforcement agencies. Further, this information will assist Pre-Sentence investigators in accurately deciphering firearms information in police reports or offender statements to better provide an informed report to the Court. This presentation will not include live handling of any firearms, but will include a multimedia presentation.

Wednesday, July 25th Plenary Session: 12:00pm-1:00pm

PROBATION'S IMPORTANT ROLE IN IMPLEMENTING RAISE THE AGE LEGISLATION IN NEW YORK STATE

Presenters: Deputy Commissioner and Director, Robert M. Maccarone, DCJS
Office of Probation and Correctional Alternatives & Deputy Commissioner
Mark White, DCJS-Office of Youth Justice

The recently enacted RAISE THE AGE law in New York State will transform how youth ages 16 and 17 are handled in the juvenile and criminal justice system. This session will provide an overview of the legislation and describe the new statutory requirements for Probation departments. This information will be invaluable to juvenile probation officers working in Probation Intake, Adjustment, Investigations and Supervision, and the newly established Youth Part of Superior Court, where probation will provide Voluntary Assessment and Case Planning Services. This legislation establishes unprecedented opportunities for Probation to engage youth, divert them from formal court proceedings when eligible and appropriate, advocate for alternatives to detention, and assess and connect youth to targeted interventions that will lead to more successful outcomes. This is an historic opportunity in justice system reform. Learn how Probation Officers will play a critical role in its success.

Wednesday, July 25th Session 3, 1:00pm–2:30pm

1. Workshop Title: Trauma Informed Probation Practice and Self Care: An Overview of how being trauma informed effects probation outcomes and the necessity of peer support in the workforce

Presenters: Michelle Preshur (Trauma/Probation Outcomes Portion) Probation Officer (Tompkins County)

Angela Kehoe, Peer Support, Probation Officer (Tompkins County)

Christine Ion, Peer Support, Probation Officer (Tompkins County)

Trauma informed portion: this section of the presentation/workshop will focus on trauma - what it is, how it effects offender populations and strategies that will assist probation officers in being successful when working with offenders who have trauma histories. Additionally, there is a section that will briefly cover secondary (or vicarious) trauma among probation officers.

Peer support: Presentation will focus on the development and implementation of a peer support team, as well as the efficacy of such a program amongst probation officers/departments.

2. Workshop Title: Anxiety and School Avoidance

Presenters: Laura Arrington & Kara Olds, Family & Youth Education Coordinator—Starbridge

Agency Overview: Do you know that there are free educational support and services for families that help support families to effectively participate in their child's education? We will share with you the Federal Parent Centers as well as the New York State Parent Centers in your area to help families connect with them and support them through the special education process.

Anxiety is a natural part of childhood, but when anxiety gets in the way of a child's ability to learn, families may need support and services through the Committee on Special Education. Learn how to collaborate with your child's school, and what supports and services may be available through school for a child who has anxiety. Learn how to collaborate with your child's school identify supports and services available through school and your community

3. Workshop Title: Defensive Tactics Overview for Probation Officers (Part 1)

Presenters: Daniel Connor, Probation Officer (Jefferson County)

Andrew Farmer, Probation Officer (Jefferson County)

Common things that Probation Officers need to be aware of to keep themselves safe in the field or office. Demonstrate ways for officers to make a situation as safe as possible, ways to find an escape if needed, how to avoid a physical altercation altogether, and how to defend themselves in a physical altercation (within NYS guidelines).

CONFERENCE EVENTS

WEDNESDAY EVENING WELCOME SOIRÉE:

6pm – 10pm

The Wednesday Evening Welcome Soirée will begin at 6:00pm at Coltivare, located directly across the street from The Hotel Ithaca. THURSDAY NIGHT NYSPOA NETWORKING POKER RUN:

7:30pm – 12:00am

The NYSPOA Board will host the 2nd Annual Poker Run on Thursday evening. Participation in this event is free, however, refreshment costs are the responsibility of the player. Sign-up will be in The Hotel Ithaca lobby starting at 7:00pm and the Poker Run will begin at 7:30pm. Participants will be given a list of five Downtown Ithaca bars, all within walking distance of The Hotel Ithaca. Upon arrival at each location, find the NYSPOA card dealer who will provide you with a different color-coded card. Two additional bars will be listed as special locations, where you will be able to receive up to two "wild cards" to build your best hand. Players will meet back at The Hotel Ithaca lobby at midnight to turn in their cards and see who has the winning poker hand. This is a great opportunity for everyone to collaborate and network. The winner of this event will receive a Beats Headphone set.

Friday, July 27th Session 2, 10:15am– 11:45pm

1. Workshop Title: High on our Highways—The challenge of Drugged Driving and Probation Supervision

Presenters: Mark Stodola, Probation Fellow, American Probation and Parole Association

Erin Holmes, Director of Traffic Safety at the Foundation for Advancing Alcohol Responsibility (Responsibility.org)

In 2015, 43% of fatally injured drivers with a known test result tested positive for drugs, more frequently than alcohol was present. The growing number of states having legalized recreational marijuana and the increased abuse of prescription drugs have created an increased threat on our roadways. Given that over two thirds of our probation population is drug and/or alcohol involved, probation officers need to understand the challenges we face with drugged drivers. This interactive presentation will provide the audience information on the scope of our drugged driving problem, the use of assessment tools to determine risk and practical evidence - based supervision strategies to address these behaviors.

Learning Objectives

- Participants will identify drugged driving trends and their challenges
- Participants will identify how assessment tools can help determine risk for drugged drivers
- Participants will identify three supervision countermeasures and research based practices that jurisdictions should be using to reduce the possibility of re-offense by drugged drivers

2. Workshop Title: Working with Clients Who Have Experienced Trauma

Presenters: Ermira Uldedaj, Policy and Training Coordinator at NYC Mayor's Office to Combat Domestic Violence

Kerri Stadd, Supervising Probation Officer, DV Interim Probation Unit, NYC Department of Probation

The neurobiology of trauma, how trauma and IPV intersect, trauma informed interviewing and how to work with clients who have used abuse or who are survivors of abuse.

Wednesday, July 25th Session 4, 3:00pm–4:30pm

1. Workshop Title: Question, Persuade, Refer (QPR), evidence-based, gate keeper training for suicide prevention.

Presenter: Nichole Christiansen, Prevention Director—Champlain Valley Center

Question, Persuade, Refer (QPR), is an evidence-based, gate keeper training for suicide prevention. This workshop will help you identify suicide risk factors, and become confident in addressing suicide with your client.

2. Workshop Title: Inspiring and Developing Futures: An Overview of Career University-Advancing to the Next Level, a Skill-Based Career Readiness Curriculum for Justice Involved Youth

Presenters: Cynthia Blair, Community Correction Representative III, DCJS- Office of Probation and Correctional Alternatives
Frank Cangiano, Community Correction Representative II, DCJS- Office of Probation and Correctional Alternatives
TBD local representative

NYS OPCA is pleased to announce the availability of Career University – Advancing to the Next Level (CU). This is a comprehensive career curriculum for youth between the ages of 14 – 24 years old who are or have been involved with the juvenile/criminal justice system. Career University – Advancing to the Next Level builds on evidence-based curriculums and resources from the New York State Division of Criminal Justice Services and the New York State Department of Labor. It also incorporates the experiences of several local probation departments and community-based organizations with frontline experience working with juvenile/criminal justice system involved youth. CU is based on the competencies found in the National Institute of Corrections' Offender Workforce Development Specialist Training. This workshop will provide a brief history about the development of this curriculum, offer a cursory review of each of the modules of this curriculum, provide an examination of the steps probation departments should take to prepare for the implementation of this curriculum, as well as inform the class of the technical assistance role to be played by NYS OPCA to aid in the development and facilitation of this curriculum.

3. Workshop Title: Defensive Tactics Overview for Probation Officers (Part 2)

Presenters: Daniel Connor, Probation Officer (Jefferson County)
Andrew Farmer, Probation Officer (Jefferson County)

We will be recapping some of the information reviewed in part 1, and showing officers NYS approved tactics to help them escape a situation that has turned into a physical confrontation. We will show tactics that can end a physical confrontation, and put an officer in a position to escape or detain an individual, depending on their department's guidelines. We will be using training tools to show officers techniques in a safe setting where there would be no risk for injury to attendees.

Thursday, July 26th Session 1, 8:30am–10:00am

1. Workshop Title: Self Awareness (Part 1)

Presenter: Brian Conheady Monroe County System of Care – Community Coach and Trainer

This training consists of facilitated discussion and interactive activities that highlight the importance of being aware of how our own feelings/thoughts/emotions can influence our interaction with others. Key points covered in the training:

- An exploration of where our feelings/emotions come from.
- Recognition of circumstances when our personal issues might be triggered.
- Development of strategies to control, change and/or modify our expression of feelings/emotions when they are interfering with our interactions and/or relationships with others.

2. Workshop Title: Introduction to Health Homes and Children's System Transformation

Presenter: Melissa Hayward, LMSW Sr. Manager Children's Behavioral Services, Monroe County Department of Mental Health

Provide an overview of Health Homes Serving Children and the children's system transformation taking place across NYS. Discuss what the current service array looks like for youth and families. Discuss the reasons to change to this model, who can access Health Homes and general eligibility criteria, as well as what is still to come.

3. Workshop Title: Bridging the Gap: Bringing A Collaborative Approach to Case Planning

Presenters: Teresa Scanu-Hansen, Community Correction Representative II, DCJS-Office of Probation and Correctional Alternatives
Michele Clark, Community Correction Representative II, DCJS-Office of Probation and Correctional Alternatives
Melanie Scalera, Probation Officer, Columbia County Probation Department

This workshop will provide Probation Officers with a broader understanding of the importance of connecting assessments to case planning, creating well-designed case plans and sharing case plan information for more effective service delivery. By collaborating with community organizations that serve the juvenile justice population, inclusive of 16 and 17 years old youth as a result of NYS "Raise the Age" legislation, Probation Officers can influence the degree to which comprehensive, quality case plans are prepared.

Thursday, July 26th Session 3, 2:15pm–3:45pm (continued)

and State Supreme Court, reviews each potential participant to determine their eligibility for the program. When screening participants, the team considers individuals who: score as high-risk on a risk assessment tool; have a current or prior arrest or conviction for a felony or weapon-related offense; are currently being charged with a felony; are gang involved; have previously not complied with terms of community supervision; are unlikely to succeed solely under probation supervision; or are facing a prison sentence.

The Swift, Certain and Fair Program is designed to last for one year. A judge dedicated to the program outlines the components of the program to the participant, which includes GPS electronic monitoring for the first six months and attendance at educational and vocational training, such as the National Institute of Corrections Ready, Set, Work! and Thinking for a Change programs, which are provided by a local non-profit organization. During this time, probation officers perform intensive case management and supervision by conducting frequent home visits and curfew checks and meeting weekly with participants.

Friday, July 27th Session 1, 8:30am-10:00am

1. Workshop Title: Discussion of effects of the Opioid Crisis

Presenter: Jene Gardner, M.A., CASAC2

Discuss effects of the Opioid Crisis and how it impacts the family system, legal system and communities. Treatment options-what is available in NYS. Give statistics and stories of hope and recovery.

2. Workshop Title: Stop the Trauma: How Probation Can Prevent Re-victimization in Domestic Violence Cases

Presenter: Sara E. Mahoney, Probation Officer (Allegany County), C.D.V.

There is a lot of emphasis placed upon working with DV Offenders in our field; however the silent partners in these cases often get overlooked. Since protecting the victim is part of our role as a Probation Officer, it is important that we recognize signs of trauma as well as prevent re-victimization. This presentation will cover the principles of trauma informed care and its application in working with DV victims in order to enhance our working relationship to keep them safe and in turn, better supervise the offenders. Discussion will also include how these same principles can be applied to working with victims who are on our caseload as offenders, with special attention being paid to recognizing how the pathways to crime are different for justice involved women compared to their male counterparts.

Thursday, July 26th Session 3, 2:15pm–3:45pm

1. Workshop Title: SOS! Save Our Staff, Save Ourselves: Motivational and Other Strategies to Address Secondary Trauma

Presenter: Ali Hall, Independent Trainer and Consultant

High percentages of justice-involved women and men have experienced serious trauma throughout their lifetime. And, the very qualities that make us effective with our clients—such as empathy, compassion or caring—may also leave us vulnerable to negative outcomes such as compassion fatigue or burnout. How does all this impact us and our organizations? What can we do to prevent or minimize secondary trauma? What can we do to heal from, or respond to, secondary trauma? This highly interactive workshop will allow us to generate individual and organizational coping strategies and change plans to work proactively with sources of strain from secondary trauma.

2. Workshop Title: Turning Commercial Sexual Exploitation of Children (CSEC) Victims into Thrivers in Residential Treatment

Presenter: Dominick DiSalvo, LPC, Sr. Director of Clinical Services for PA Residential, Kidspeace

Due to the behavioral responses often displayed by individuals with history of trauma, often caused by changes to the flight/fright/freeze mechanisms causing survival responses, many people tend to only look at "what" is happening rather than "why" it is happening. To truly understand the "why" and be successful, a holistic approach that infuses the principles of healthy community interactions, evidence-based/data-driven interventions, and life skills development is needed. Through the use of data, our team helps to effectively target interventions to meet the individual and unique needs of our clients and families. We have looked to help victims of trauma/trafficking, become survivors and with the use of our life skills program, help them achieve their goals of thriving back in the community.

3. Workshop Title: Monroe County Swift, Certain, and Fair Program Presenters: David Fluellen, Probation Supervisor, Monroe County Office of Probation

Jennifer Hyatt, Senior Assistant District Attorney, Special Investigations Bureau, Monroe County District Attorney's Office

Monroe County Probation created the Swift, Certain and Fair Program to address gun violence committed by young offenders. This program combines frequent, individualized and meaningful incentives and immediate, consistent and proportionate sanctions. Participants who successfully progress through the program receive rewards, such as curfew extensions. Alternatively, consequences for non-compliance include sanctions ranging from a verbal reprimand to a jail sentence, depending on the severity of the non-compliance.

The Monroe Crime Analysis Center identifies arrestees ranging from 16 to 24 years old as potential program participants, and a team of representatives from Probation, the Rochester Police Department, Monroe County District Attorney's Office

Thursday, July 26th Session 2, 10:30am-12:00pm

1. Workshop Title: Self Awareness (Part 2)

Presenter: Brian Conheady Monroe County System of Care – Community Coach and Trainer

This training consists of facilitated discussion and interactive activities that highlight the importance of being aware of how our own feelings/thoughts/emotions can influence our interaction with others. Key points covered in the training:

- An exploration of where our feelings/emotions come from.
- Recognition of circumstances when our personal issues might be triggered.

2. Workshop Title: Implementing and Sustaining PBIS (Positive Behavior Intervention Supports) at the Glen Mills Schools

Presenter: Dennis McKimm/ Group Living Program Coordinator, PBIS Team Leader

In 2014 the Glen Mills Schools, a residential facility for court adjudicated youth in Pennsylvania, implemented PBIS (Positive Behavior Intervention Supports). This workshop will explain what PBIS looks like, how it was implemented at Glen Mills Schools, and how it is effective in changing behavior. PBIS has changed the environment at the Glen Mills Schools to an effective and efficient working environment for staff and enhances the positive culture for the students. Data will be presented to capture the positive change.

3. Workshop Title: Unleashing the Power of Compassion: The Quiet Force that Changes Everything

Presenter: Ali Hall, Independent Trainer and Consultant

The nature and demands of our work can really take a toll, individually and organizationally. Unleashing the power of compassion in our workplaces is a direct antidote, increasing our resilience, collaboration, creativity and commitment. This fast-paced and highly interactive workshop will explore the benefits for our staff and organizations of increasing compassion in the workplace, identify common barriers to compassion and allow key administrators and staff to identify tangible things to do immediately to access the benefits of compassion in the workplace.
