San Francisco—The San Francisco Peninsula Press Club will celebrate the 39th Greater Bay Area Journalism Awards on Saturday, Oct. 1 by honoring the 2015 work of more than 100 journalists representing 29 media organizations. A special awards ceremony will begin at 11:30 a.m. at the Crowne Plaza in Foster City, which is located at 1221 Chess Drive.

The SFPPC journalism awards contest among media professionals in the 11 Greater Bay Area counties received 241 entries, and was judged by press clubs in seven other locations—Cleveland, Florida, Houston, Milwaukee, New Orleans, Orange County and San Diego. A general list of award winners is attached, and specific awards will be announced at the event.

Journalist Carla De Luca Worfolk, an Emmy award-winning television and documentary producer, will give a keynote speech. Worfolk has enjoyed an extensive career across media, gravitating toward highly creative assignments with an emphasis on education, public service and policy. During her years as a CNN producer in Atlanta, Worfolk supervised content for the highly-rated CNN Saturday/Sunday Morning program, a live, two-hour magazine show, and was also on the Emmy-winning team that covered the Olympic Park Bombing in 1996.

The awards luncheon is open to the public. Visit this link to purchase tickets:
