

RAPID RESPONSE CHECKLIST

This resource contains information, tools, and a set of steps to take for those concerned about the possibility of detention or deportation.

GETTING STARTED

Seek Legal Assistance

Reach out for legal assistance to determine if there are legal avenues of relief to pursue.

- Asian Law Caucus: (415) 896-1701
- Asian Americans Advancing Justice - Los Angeles (AAAJ-LA) - intake lines for the Southern CA area: English: (888) 349-9695 | Vietnamese: (800) 267-7395 | Khmer: (800) 867-3126
- Pro-Bono Legal Help: bit.ly/searac_probono_legal
- Locate an immigration attorney through the American Immigration Lawyers Association (AILA) AILA does not offer pro bono service ailalawyer.org

Complete SEARAC's Advocacy Data Collection Form:

bit.ly/SEARACadvodataform

This form seeks to compile information about families and community members impacted by detention and deportation. Stories collected will inform and support SEARAC's long-term advocacy efforts to change unjust immigration and detention laws. Complete this form if you

- need help finding a lawyer/ local organizations that can help with your case
- need help reaching out to your member of Congress
- are interested in getting your story out to the press
- would like to share your story to support SEARAC's fight to change unjust immigration and detention laws

After SEARAC receives your response, a staff person will reach out to you as soon as possible, but not exceeding five business days.

Impacted Vietnamese community members: In addition to completing SEARAC's Advocacy Data Collection Form, contact VietLead at (267) 713-9089 for assistance.
