

Chemical Education Faculty Position
Department of Chemistry and Biochemistry
UNC Greensboro
Assistant Professor- Tenure Track

The Department of Chemistry and Biochemistry at UNC Greensboro is seeking to fill a tenure-track faculty position in the area of Chemical Education at the rank of assistant professor. A PhD in Chemical Education, Chemistry, Biochemistry, or related field is a requirement for the position. Applicants should demonstrate a solid track record of publication, and should show promise for establishing an independent and externally funded research program in chemical education at least some of which is at the undergraduate level. Applicants will be expected to mentor master's and doctoral research students, and to contribute to the department's long-standing strength in undergraduate research. Additionally, the successful hire will demonstrate teaching excellence at both the graduate and undergraduate levels. A competitive startup package will be provided. The expected start date for this position is August of 2019.

Applications must be submitted through Spartantalent. To apply visit <https://spartantalent.uncg.edu> and click on "Faculty/Tenure Stream" and apply to position # 998714. Applicants should upload (as PDF files) a) a cover letter addressed to Dr. Jerry Walsh, Committee Chair b) a curriculum vita c) a description of proposed research d) a teaching statement e) a one-page diversity statement outlining how the candidate would promote diversity, and arrange for three letters of recommendation to be sent. Any questions can be addressed to Trina Porcher at t_porche@uncg.edu. Review of applications will begin November 5th, 2018 and will continue until the position is filled.

UNC Greensboro is a Minority Serving Institution, with an undergraduate student body consisting of 44% ethnic minority students. UNC Greensboro and the Department of Chemistry and Biochemistry foster an environment of collaboration across departments and schools and support community-engaged research. UNCG is proud of the diversity of its student body and we seek to attract an equally diverse applicant pool for this position. UNC Greensboro is in a metropolitan area of more than 1.6 million in the Piedmont region of North Carolina, between the Atlantic Ocean and the Appalachian Mountains. UNCG is an EEO/AA employer with a strong commitment to increasing faculty diversity. EOE AA/M/F/D/V.