Black student performance still low

By Richard Haws
The State Journal

By Brian Keefe
The State Journal

Wisconsin State Journal

Traffic jam in the rush hour on Madison's eastside.

HHH urges doctors to take part in national health plan debate

By John Keefe
The State Journal

Sen. Baker Humphrey (D-Minn.)

Baker Humphrey Monday night to refer

Full preliminary report issued by the students.

Metro

Medical Society of Wisconsin members.

Four city doctors honored by peers

The Medical Society (SSM) honored

the 58th day of service doctors.

By Marian Peterson

State Journal correspondent

The Madison Water Utility Board on

water rates.

Beginning in late April, the board will begin to test the area's water quality.

Hearing set on water rates

For Madisonians, there is a constant battle over water quality.

The board is scheduled to hear testimony from residents and

On Madison's westside.

HHH urges doctors to take part in national health plan debate

By John W. Rinner
The State Journal

Secretary of Health, Education and

Public Welfare (HEW) F. David Matthews

is scheduled to address the state's health care professionals.

Mediation seminar

A five-week seminar on "transcendental

meditation" will be offered.

The seminar will be held from 1 to 3 p.m.

on the first five Thursdays.

Federal health insurance: An Edsel?

By William L. Rens
The State Journal

For many consumers, health insurance has become a necessary evil.

The government has attempted to provide comprehensive health care coverage.

Matthews also warned the doctors that the government will intervene in the health care system.

He said that the government's

position is that "we don't believe in

Edsel medicine.

The doctors also defeat solutions that may be used to solve the problems of health care.

One of the key issues facing health care providers is the cost of health care.

The doctors also defeated solutions

that may be used to solve the problems of health care.

Four city doctors honored by peers

The Medical Society (SSM) honored

the 58th day of service doctors.

By Marian Peterson

State Journal correspondent

The Madison Water Utility Board on

water rates.

Beginning in late April, the board will

hear testimony from residents and

on Madison's westside.

Hearing set on water rates

For Madisonians, there is a constant battle over water quality.

The board is scheduled to

hear testimony from residents and

On Madison's westside.

HHH urges doctors to take part in national health plan debate

By John W. Rinner
The State Journal

Secretary of Health, Education and

Public Welfare (HEW) F. David Matthews

is scheduled to address the state's health care professionals.

Mediation seminar

A five-week seminar on "transcendental

meditation" will be offered.

The seminar will be held from 1 to 3 p.m.

on the first five Thursdays.

Federal health insurance: An Edsel?

By William L. Rens
The State Journal

For many consumers, health insurance has become a necessary evil.

The government has attempted to

provide comprehensive health care coverage.

Matthews also warned the doctors that

the government will intervene in the health care system.

He said that the government's

position is that "we don't believe in

Edsel medicine.

The doctors also defeated solutions

that may be used to solve the problems of health care.

One of the key issues facing health care providers is the cost of health care.

The doctors also defeated solutions

that may be used to solve the problems of health care.

Four city doctors honored by peers

The Medical Society (SSM) honored

the 58th day of service doctors.

By Marian Peterson

State Journal correspondent

The Madison Water Utility Board on

water rates.

Beginning in late April, the board will

hear testimony from residents and

On Madison's westside.

Hearing set on water rates

For Madisonians, there is a constant battle over water quality.

The board is scheduled to hear testimony from residents and

On Madison's westside.