

Behind Mike's friendly exterior lies one of the sharpest minds in FinTech. He joined Currencycloud in 2011, growing the firm to the point where it has now processed over $20bn of international payments and more than 2m transactions.

As COO at Traiana, Mike played a pivotal role in ICAP's $274m purchase of a controlling interest. Mike was CEO at Infinity Financial Technology, Cohera and Coronet, and Chairman at FRS Global.

As much at home in Silicon Valley as he is the financial services world in London, you will be unsurprised to learn that Mike has several degrees from prominent institutions including Harvard. In his early career, he spent six years working for the United Nations. In his spare time, Mike plays classical and jazz piano, a topic on which he can bore even the most ardent music aficionado rigid.
