

John Bonhomme is an Executive Director in Global Strategic Markets. He is a founder and Managing Partner of Thorobird Companies, Bonwick Capital Partners, BWB Companies and was Chief Operating Officer, Director and Strategic Advisor to Eagle National Bank.

John began working on Wall Street in 1998 with JPMorgan Chase in the Leverage Finance Department. In 1999, he was hired by Goldman Sachs & Co. in the Investment Banking division and moved over to the fixed income division in 2000. He personally managed relationships with a diverse group of institutional investors including private equity funds, hedge funds, mutual funds, banks, corporations, insurance companies and state funds. John underwrote, closed and funded $3 billion in private equity transactions. John purchased and operated businesses in a number of different industries, including but not limited to Financial Institutions, Middle Market Banks, Broker Dealers, Transportation, Sports and Entertainment, and Equipment Auctioning. John has significant experience identifying and capitalizing on growth opportunities in developing industries. Since 2008 John has and continues to teach at Cornell University; Lectured at Columbia University, University of Pennsylvania, Howard University and Colgate University.

John received his M.B.A. degree from Cornell University's Johnson School of Management where he was a Robert Toigo & MLT fellow. He holds a bachelor's degree from Colgate University with Phi Beta Kappa, Magna Cum Laude, Honors in Philosophy and Religion.

John is a federal licensed registered representative holding professional registrations of NASD Series 6, 7, 24, 63, 79 & 99. He was a Network Journal 40 Under 40 honoree in 2009, Robert Toigo 40 Under 40 honoree in 2013, received Cornell University's Wilbur Parker Distinguished Alumni Award in 2015 and PowerNetworking JP Morgan Chase Corporate Executive of the Year in 2017.

John serves on the First State Community Loan Fund, Johnson School Diversity Council, Strath Haven A Better Chance program Board, Colgate's Alumni Board of Directors, Regional Director of Colgate's Alumni of Color Committee and the Board of Trustees of Second Baptist Church. John's volunteer work includes sponsoring, mentoring, and academic advising students in the A Better Chance program.

His proudest accomplishment is being the father of his two wonderful children Madeline 11 yrs and Jonathan 7yrs.