

MILITARY VS. CIVILIAN OCCUPATIONS

Military Job Functions

Canadian Armed Forces (CAF) members hold various jobs within the military. These roles can fall within various job functions including:

Business Ops. & Admin.

Engineering

Finance & Accounting

Health

Human Resources

Information Technology

Soft-Skills Acquired

In addition to gaining technical skills relevant to their specific military roles, CAF members are trained and tested for soft-skills including:

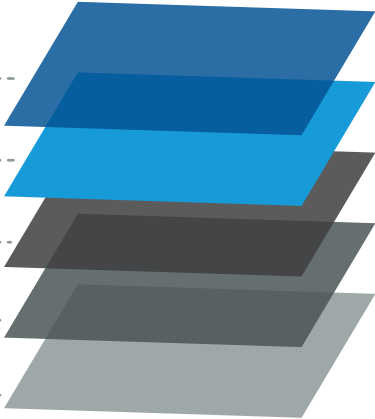

Accountability

Communication

Coaching & Training

Leadership

Teamwork

Military Occupations

Related Civilian Jobs

ARMY COMMUNICATION & INFORMATION SYSTEMS SPECIALIST

Deliver fast, reliable wired and wireless communication and information systems using leading edge voice and data systems.

- Telecommunications Operator and Manager
- Information Systems Analyst
- Electronic Engineering Technologist
- Line Installer-Repairer Technician

FINANCIAL SERVICES ADMINISTRATOR

Provide financial assistance and budget resources support to all military activities.

- Financial Manager
- Accounting Associate
- Budget Officer
- Business Planner Technician
- Verification Manager

LOGISTICS OFFICER

Supply the various means of transportation, equipment and supplies for the movement of CAF members and all types and sizes of cargo throughout the world.

- Logistics Analyst
- Supply Chain Manager
- Inventory Control Manager
- Manufacturing Manager
- Purchasing Manager

SIGNALS OFFICER

Deliver telecommunications services to the CAF, especially the Army and command units, as well as operate and maintain all communications systems that are not built into aircraft, boats or ships.

- Cyber Security Specialist
- Policy Development Associate
- Project Manager
- Networking and Systems Engineer