

DCDC Member Spotlight: Floratine Central Turf Products

Floratine Central Turf Products provides the most advanced diagnostic services and highest quality turf technologies available to Golf, Sports Turf, and Professional Lawn Care. Our entire focus is to provide Turf Strength through Plant Health, which is achieved through the correct balance of the Physical, Nutritional and Biological elements all working together. Strong plants are better able to withstand all forms of stress.

Floratine Central Turf Products partners WITH their clients to develop and implement proactive agronomic plans to meet their individual goals.

Their team is extensively trained in soil science, nutrition and plant strength to provide their customers with the highest level of agronomic consultation and support. They take a great deal of pride in what they do and realize that their recommendations directly impact the professional reputation of the client, and value of their facility or property.

Floratine Central Turf Products believes in giving back to the community through a number of local charities and fundraisers, most notably Junior Golf in the Dewitt area.
