The Newman Community

Founded in 1945, The Newman School, is an urban independent day school, preparing young women and men from Greater Boston and around the world for success in university and life. Studies are organized around the principles of the International Baccalaureate Diploma Programme. Students have the option of pursuing the entire IB Diploma or those portions of it which meet their needs and aspirations. At Newman “the city is our classroom” from trips to the museums, utilizing the resources at the Boston Public Library to playing our athletic contests on the Esplanade beside the Charles River, we take advantage of every opportunity in the city. Our students not only travel internationally to attend Newman but come from all corners of Massachusetts with some waking up at 5am every day to ride public transportation to school.

The Newman Curriculum: International Baccalaureate

The Newman School’s IB Diploma program provides a thorough education in a broad range of subject areas. The program aims to enhance each student’s international perspective and awareness of our common humanity; to encourage a sense of social and individual responsibility; and supply each student with the tools essential for success in higher education and beyond. The IB Diploma program allows students the freedom to pursue their own needs and interests within a liberal arts style framework. It is both a structured program that offers a strong liberal arts education, with flexibility, providing for the particular interests of the students.

The IB Diploma Programme provides an opportunity for a greater breadth and depth of academic study than a general diploma option. Generally, higher-level subjects reflect a student’s area of special interest. Standard level subjects complement the higher-level choices, but do not generally require the same degree of specialized knowledge and understanding. Our two-year Diploma program is structured within the context of a traditional high school diploma program, with three additional program elements: Theory of Knowledge, Extended Essay, and participation in the CAS Program (community service).
