Make Summer Count Webinar:
Empowering Students and Families While Stemming Summer Reading Loss

Tuesday, February 20, 2018

3PM EST – 4PM EST  OR  6PM EST – 7PM EST
Duration: 60 Minutes  Duration: 60 Minutes

REGISTER NOW  REGISTER NOW

Join us as we dive deep into findings on how summer reading activities directly contribute to reducing or stemming summer reading loss.

Public Education Partners and Scholastic partnered with Greenville County Schools in South Carolina to increase access to books and engage families in summer learning. Through the 2016 Make Summer Count initiative, 78% of students in grades 3–5 maintained or increased their reading levels from spring to fall. The webinar will highlight best practices in leveraging community partnerships to increase reading stamina, empower families, and prevent summer reading loss. A question-and-answer session will follow the presentation.

FEATURED SPEAKERS

ANSEL SANDERS, Ed.L.D.
President & CEO at Greenville County Public Education Partners

ANDREA RIZZO, Ph.D.
Director of Research & Validation at Scholastic

Make Summer Count is a recipient of the 2017 Dick and Tunky Riley WhatWorksSC Award for Excellence.

A $10 gift card to the Scholastic Teacher Store will be awarded to the first 20 registrations.