Source. Process

As a government I want to prepare the best projects for my citizens.

I would go to sif-source.org.

I can create a project using one of over 36 globally endorsed templates.

I can then publish general information and progress on the project to be visible to the private sector.

I can prepare my project and collaborate with my team using the many Source features.

I can Invite and work with project Team Members.

My project can receive comments from public, private and other stakeholders.

Before I launch procurement, I can finalise the tender documents.

I can announce the official launch of Procurement on my project's published page.
