

Chief Steven Lewis is a seasoned veteran of law enforcement with over three decades of law enforcement and security experience. He is currently the Chief of Police for the Ellisville police department.

Chief Lewis holds a Bachelor of Science Degree in the Administration of Justice from Lindenwood University. He is a graduate of the following: 236th Session of the FBI National Academy; St. Louis University Workforce and Organizational Development Leadership and Organizational Change Program; the National Crime Prevention Institute in Louisville Kentucky; several prestigious Media Relations courses including the designation as a Master Public Information Officer, FBI Public Relations Media Course, and Crisis Communication.

Chief Lewis is the past president of the Law Enforcement Officials of Greater St. Louis and presently serves on the board of the FBI National Academy Associates and the Crusade Against Crime Medal of Valor board. He is a current member of the FBI Joint Terrorism Task Force Executive Board, and the St. Louis Area Police Chiefs. Chief Lewis is a train-the-trainer in several disciplines including Response to Weapons of Mass Destruction, Emergency Management and Active Shooter.

Chief Lewis' expertise lies in the area of Emergency Management, Site Security Assessments, Crime Prevention through Environmental Design, Tabletop Exercise Management and Security Presentations. As a graduate of the FEMA Professional Development Series in Emergency Management, he has received training in All Hazards Planning and is a recognized expert in Incident Command and Incident Management.

Chief Lewis has presented to thousands of businesses, schools and community members over the past decade.