

Terry Bean has a tremendous passion for helping others get better connected to what they seek. He takes time to uncover people's needs and leverages his network and knowledge to see them fulfilled.

Bean's love of Detroit compelled him to create Motor City Connection in 20016. MCC was one of the first hybrid online and real world networking groups in the country. It has provided business opportunities, guidance and inspiration to 1000's since the inception. Bean is also credited with creating the movement that celebrates 13 as Detroit Day.

After leading 100's of networking meetings Terry Bean became a sought after keynote speaker. Audiences love his ability to deliver uncommon knowledge in a clear, entertaining and immediately implementable way. Terry's "inspiredutaining" style keeps them entertained while he "fires them up" with the information they need to live their best lives.

Terry has written a book on business networking has received some nice accolades. In 2009 he received the "Presidential Volunteer Service Award" from President Obama. In 2010 he was honored as a Leader and Innovator through Lawrence Tech University. In March of 2012 he received the Detroit 2020 person of the week award from Local ABC affiliate Channel 7.

Terry holds a B.S. in Psychology and a M.A. in Business Communications from Eastern Michigan University. Terry loves the Simpson's, introspection, Universal Laws and sharing. Terry lives in White Lake, MI with his wife Stephanie and their 13 year old daughter, Alexzandrea.
