

The Outdoor Classroom at T.O. Fuller State Park provides a place where lessons from any curriculum can be conducted. It also provides contact with nature and the opportunity for rangers to give programs and teach your students about their ecosystem. This allows for both the students and the teachers to simultaneously take a break from the standard indoor classroom monotony while maintaining the relatively quick-paced progress required for students to continue to advance through their academics.

As an added incentive, if the Outdoor Classroom is rented out, the teacher and students can receive any of our programs without any programming fee. That includes the Interpretive Center Grand Tour, which is mentioned in the flyer, and our Bird of Prey program, which we are implementing a small charge for in the near future.

In addition to the Interpretive Center and Outdoor Classroom the park also has an extensive and interesting history, a new Natural Area, and the Chucalissa, a Native American museum and abandoned village. We also have 5 pavilions that can serve as a rendezvous for a teacher meet-and-greet or other events.

If you have any more questions, contact Decoda Muller or call 901-543-7537. Teachers can also call the Park Office at 901-543-7581 to plan an event or rent one of our locations.

T.O. Fuller Interpretive Center

The T.O. Fuller Interpretive Center serves as an indoor and outdoor educational classroom in the Memphis/Shelby county area. Built to be as environmentally friendly and energy conserving as possible, the center is ideal for demonstrating energy efficiency techniques such as photo-voltic cells and geothermal heating and air conditioning. The center houses our flight cages, outdoor classroom, conference room, a gift shop and information about the native wildlife of West Tennessee.

Scheduled Tour Times and Fees

Guided tours of the Interpretive Center are offered Wednesday through Sunday. Tours include a program on the history of T.O. Fuller State Park, a bird program in the outdoor classroom, and a walking tour of a section of our Wildlife Enhancement Area. Tours begin at 2:00 PM and end at approximately 3:15 PM.
