ArtsFest History

This year, the Charles County Arts Alliance is celebrating the 25th anniversary of its first ArtsFest! The Arts Alliance, founded in 1987, spearheaded the first countywide all-day festival of the arts in 1992, called “A Touch of the Arts,” and it was held indoors at the St. Charles Towne Center mall in Waldorf. In 1998, the arts festival was moved outdoors to quaint Cobb Island, and it was renamed the “Island Artsfest.” Then in 2001, the festival again was on the move, this time to the western part of the county — to the beautiful Village Green in Indian Head, and spent 10 years there, as “River Artsfest.” In 2012, ArtsFest moved to the center of Charles County, and the county seat, La Plata. So over the past 24 years the Arts Alliance’s arts festivals have been held in the north, south, west and center of Charles County, in order to be easily accessible to adults, children and families everywhere, both in the population center and in underserved areas of the county.

These ArtsFests have become annual events that the citizens of Charles County and all of Southern Maryland look forward to each year. They celebrate ALL the arts and talented artists of our region: music, visual art, drama, dance and literature. Something for everyone to enjoy! Professional and amateur performing and visual artists, “hands-on” art for all ages, informative displays, great fellowship – and it’s all FREE!

Charles County Arts Alliance

About the Artist - Mary Wilmoth

Our official artwork for ArtsFest 2017 is “Paint Brushes” by local artist Mary Wilmoth. Color, form and line fascinate Ms. Wilmoth. For many years she explored them through cloth and thread in the form of quilting and needlework. Painting is the continuation of that exploration through the use of pigment and brushes. Her artwork, “Paint Brushes,” is fresh, modern, and strikingly beautiful. We love it!

MEET “LORD BALTIMORE” OUR ADOPTED CAROUSEL HORSE!

Main Entrance – In Front of Town Hall

The Charles County Arts Alliance is pleased to present “Lord Baltimore” at ArtsFest 2017! Lord Baltimore is an original hand-carved wooden horse – a very handsome steed that is emblazoned with the beautiful Maryland flag. Lord Baltimore was designed for use on an actual working carousel. It was carved by Burkey Boggs and members of the Southern Maryland Carousel Group, a nonprofit 501-c-3 organization based in La Plata. Burkey Boggs is its Co-Founder and current President. The Charles County Arts Alliance “adopted” Lord Baltimore in 2014, and we were very pleased to learn that Lord Baltimore will become the lead horse for the planned carousel to be built in Southern Maryland in the future. This carousel will recreate the historic carousel located at the beloved “gone but not forgotten” Marshall Hall Amusement Park, a turn-of-the-century amusement park that was located on the western side of Charles County on the Potomac River, not far from Bryans Road. For many decades, Marshall Hall was the scene of many wonderful, happy memories for Charles County citizens and citizens of neighboring counties, Washington, DC, and northern Virginia. It was also visited by the Wilson Line steamboats on the Potomac River that came from DC “down south” to enjoy a nice day outdoors with its family-friendly ambiance – the huge roller coaster and many other rides, the fun house, the hall of mirrors, games and arcades, and great entertainment. Marshall Hall closed its doors permanently in the 1960’s.

Burkey Boggs co-founded the Southern Maryland Carousel Group in 2004. The goal is to construct a full-scale working carousel with 68 amenities: 48 horses and animals, 2 chariots, and 18 rounding boards. Their exciting plans include building a large facility to house the carousel, complete with a woodcarving museum and planned learning center designed to provide continuous education, training, public events and positive activities year-round in the Southern Maryland region. The facility will house a carousel, woodcarving museum with historic artifacts and photographs of Marshall Hall, a gift shop and the woodcarving learning center for youth and adults. When finished, the Southern Maryland Carousel and woodcarving museum will be the only one of its kind in Southern Maryland!

Burkey Boggs is a master woodcarver, and is a renowned duck decoy carver. And he is a proud member of the Charles County Arts Alliance as well! Wherever he goes, Burkey shares his incredible artistry, his deep knowledge of woodcarving, and his fascinating personal story, with young and old alike. Burkey grew up in Southern Maryland, and has pursued his passionate interest in woodcarving since 1985, following a trip to Denver in which he was inspired by a flight of hand-carved ducks in a shop window. Burkey was nearing retirement and thought that decoy-carving would be a great new hobby to pursue in his new spare time. Over time, his well-established artistry as a decoy carver blossomed into a full-fledged passionate commitment to a monumental new goal: the re-creation of the historic wooden carousel at Marshall Hall Amusement Park.

Be sure to have your photo taken with Lord Baltimore at ArtsFest 2017! And also visit the Southern Maryland Carousel Group’s tent on the lawn – and meet Burkey Boggs and his colleagues!

PREMIERE OF A NEW CHILDREN’S PLAY! THE LETTER E LEAVES THE ALPHABET BY MARTHA LANE, CHARLES COUNTY AUTHOR

2:00 pm and 2:30 pm – East Lawn, Under the Tent

The Charles County Arts Alliance is thrilled to present at ArtsFest 2017 the premiere of a new children’s play, The Letter E Leaves the Alphabet, by local author Martha Lane, a La Plata resident. This play was adapted from the book of the same name that was published in 2012. The production is sponsored by the Charles County Arts Alliance, Life Journeys Writers Guild, Friends of Old Waldorf School Foundation, and Vintage Treasures and Nused Furniture. It is produced and directed by Robert K. Rausch, Founder and current President of the Charles County Arts Alliance.

The Letter E Leaves the Alphabet is a story about the Letter E, who runs away from home because he can’t be the first letter in the alphabet. The Letter E has “one whole night and one whole day” to change his mind and return to the alphabet. If he does not make his decision in time, “every E in every word will fly away like a bird.”

The story’s themes are endless. Through the Letter E’s adventure, the fun of learning about vowels and consonants, and the rules for the road of life, are made evident. These rules range from understanding how to deal with anger, family birth order, not being listened to, getting help in the right place with the right person, the desire and need to be first, forgiveness and loyalty, and, most importantly, the knowledge that every person is an irreplaceable treasure with a wonderful mission and purpose no one else can accomplish.

Martha Lane was born in Washington, DC, in 1934, and has spent her adult life in the state of Maryland, enjoying three careers: a pastor’s wife for 44 years; the mother of 7 children, with 32 grandchildren and great grandchildren; and Director of the Before and After School Care Program and substitute teacher for 21 years in Prince George’s County Public Schools. The book, The Letter E Leaves the Alphabet, was published in March 2012. Martha believes, “This was the window God opened following the death of my husband, Rev. John F. Lane, on December 20, 2011.”

The play was entered and adjudicated in the Watermelon One Act Festival (WOAF) held recently at St. Mary’s College of Maryland in St. Mary’s City. It was the first children’s play ever to be performed at the festival. The judges were: Lisa Gregory, MS, PhD, the founder and producer of WOAF; Brent Englar, a playwright and the Baltimore Regional Representative for the Dramatists Guild of America; and Mark Rhoda, PhD, a visiting associate professor of theater, film and media studies at St. Mary’s College of Maryland.

Bring the kids, and enjoy the Charles County premiere of this wonderful new play with its inspiring message at ArtsFest 2017!

JUST FOR KIDS! “HANDS-ON” ART TENT & BIG ART CUBE

All Day — East Lawn, Near Entrance

It’s baaaaack! Our annual tradition at every ArtsFest is to have a special Kids Art Tent with cool things to do and make throughout the day! It’s an opportunity for children to explore their creativity and imagination, and have great fun with a wide variety of hands-on art activities. And they can express themselves even further by boldly painting the large wooden Big Art Cube with their favorite colors and designs! The Kids Art Tent activities are being led by local visual artist Lorina Harris of Bryans Road. Lorina is the owner of Art Smart Studio and current member of the Board of Directors of the Charles County Arts Alliance. Our special thanks to the Town of La Plata for loaning us their large tent and wonderful Big Art Cube again this year. Look for the Kids Art Tent and Big Art Cube on the East Lawn near the entrance to ArtsFest 2017!
