A wonderful family moved into one of Volunteers of America's Apartments (VOA) for Veterans and their families recently. A young Veteran and his wife opened the door to their new home and the tears of joy flowed. And so did the hugs.

I met Robert and Angela that morning, along with Christie Holderegger from VOA. It was one of the most heartfelt moments I have had in a very long time. When Christie introduced us, I told them that it was not just me, but well over a 100 people who worked together to create a home for their family. They were grateful beyond belief.

The work Taylor Morrison's team did for VOA and this family is nothing short of a miracle. For you see, this family has been living in their car. They have no furniture or bedding. All they were bringing with them were their clothes and some toys for their little boy and girl. Seeing the brand new furniture, appliances and a full pantry overwhelmed them with the generosity.

HomeAid is very grateful to our builder captain, Mark Stover and Chris Downum from Taylor Morrison, for making yet one more HOMEAID miracle happen. And a huge thanks to KB Home for all the beautiful furniture!

I can't begin to tell you how happy this family is, and this is because of all of you doing what is right.
