As a talent development professional at a business, law firm, government agency or not-for-profit organization, are your people intimidated by financial information?

Color Accounting is a teaching system that uses diagrams and logical colors to show graphically how accounting and business work, so your employees will make better decisions.

Your people will be able to:

- Manage a Profit & Loss statement
- Draw up a budget
- Understand your clients' buying motives
- Improve financial controls
- Save costs
- Expand profit margins
- Increase shareholder returns
- Get departments talking with each other
- Align your teams around well-understood financial goals
- Promote financial leadership
- Communicate more powerfully with investors, regulator and partners
