

Matt Burkett serves as NSWC Crane's Deputy Director for Small Business. Burkett's primary responsibility is to act as chief advisor and the single point of contact on all small business matters for NSWC Crane. His expansive duties include serving as the advisor on acquisition strategies or procurements that may be appealed by the Small Business Administration and representing the command in small business outreach events. He is also responsible for educating and assisting acquisition personnel in the development of strategies and market research to ensure maximum practicable opportunities for small businesses.

Prior to being named NSWC Crane's Deputy Director for Small Business, Burkett worked for ten years in Crane's contracting department, both as a Contracting Officer and a Contract Specialist.

Burkett earned a bachelor's degree in management from Lindenwood University and a certification in public management from Indiana University – Purdue University Indianapolis (IUPUI).