Millennial Myths and Managing Your Millennial Workforce

Kamaj Bailey, Engagement Leader in Talent Management at ConEdison
Preya Nixon, NUDC Program Associate and Senior Management Analyst

Are you a millennial, or do you work with or manage a millennial? Or, are you managed by a millennial? If any of this is true for you, you've probably heard millennial myths, and maybe you're not quite sure if they are actually true. Fact: It's expected that by the year 2020 millennials will take up 50% of the workforce. Myths or fact, managing your millennial workforce is critical for your company's success, especially in the utility and communication industries where the work is changing.

Join Kamaj Bailey, Engagement Leader in Talent Management at ConEdison and Preya Nixon, NUDC Program Associate and Senior Management Analyst in local government, for a webinar on 3/20 on debunking millennial myths so you can strategically manage your millennial workforce. They'll address issues like length of stay, the need for feedback and the role of technology in relationship building.
