

ASDAR State Conference

The Alabama Society Daughters of the American Revolution continues to champion the cause of patriotic education with its avid support of KDS. During the 119th Alabama Society DAR Conference in Auburn on March 10-12, that tradition of support certainly showed. KDS representatives manned a sales booth and talked with interested ladies about the projects and programs of the school.

The Alabama DAR Conference also serves as a 'dress rehearsal' for the school's newly selected Continental Congress representatives. During the Saturday morning DAR School Breakfast, KDS juniors Charles Montgomery and Taylor Corbin spoke about what makes KDS such a special place to gain an education. And as the featured speaker for the breakfast, KDS Middle School Counselor Lisa Fountain gave a presentation on the robotics program sponsored with funds from Nancy Folk's State Regent's Project, and she spoke about how the program is having an impact on the students.

(above) Charles and Taylor enjoyed visiting with KDS Honorary Board Member Sara Craft.

But the true success of the school during the Alabama Society DAR State Conference is in the sharing of the KDS story with long-time and new DAR members. It is a time to celebrate the unique privilege of having a DAR School in Alabama and to show appreciation for KDS's most devoted supporters – Alabama Daughters!

(right) Attending the formal Opening Session were Charles Montgomery, Board Chairman Cheryl Harrison, Honorary Chairman for Life Rita Horton, Taylor Corbin, and Executive Director Heather Green.

(left) The DAR School Breakfast on Saturday celebrated KDS and its students. Seated at the KDS table were Board Member and Alumnae Betty Moore, Board Vice Chairman Melvina Phillips, Board Chairman Cheryl Harrison, Honorary Board Member Sara Craft, Executive Director Heather Green, and student representatives Charles Montgomery and Taylor Corbin.