

Presenter/Facilitator: Tiffanie Lee, Trainer/Education Coordinator

Trainer Bio:

Training professional with excellent curriculum development and design skills leveraging participant-centered learning approaches. Experienced in adult learning theory, program design and development, instructional design, project management, and staff development. Proven success in creating training programs that delivers strong ROI, meets organizational objectives, and aligns with corporate strategy.

Tiffanie has spent the last 14 years in Training and Development. She has been in her position as Trainer/Education Coordinator for PracticeLink since December 2014. Her role at PracticeLink is to provide clients with additional training and educational resources that are not only related to PracticeLink but the industry as a whole.

PracticeLink University was developed to educate our clients and physicians through in- person workshops and video training events. Tiffanie develops PracticeLink University client-focused training programs regarding best practices in physician recruitment for recruiters and job-search help for physicians. The curriculum is delivered via monthly in- person workshops, weekly training webinars, and online training modules.

Trainer Education - St. Louis University, BA; University of Missouri – St. Louis, Secondary Education Certification, English; Education; Webster University, MBA/MA (Human Resources Management), October 2016