The History of Vibe Performing Arts Studios

Andrea Vibe founded Vibe Vocal Studios in 1990. Originally a vocal studio only, the location was her home studio in Santa Clarita, California. Building and maintaining a regular clientele weekly, Ms. Vibe's popularity as a voice teacher grew quickly.

Major additions were made in 1994 providing Vibe Vocal Studios with a facility in Newhall Square with additional voice studios and instructors. By 1997, the studios had grown significantly as more instructors were hired to include instrument, acting, and dance lessons. Vibe Vocal Studios then became Vibe Performing Arts Studios.

In June of 2000, VIBE moved to its current location in Valencia Plaza to include a multi-purpose theatre, a dance studio, and seven small studios. VIBE has succeeded by keeping a high caliber of teachers, many performance opportunities, and good, consistent service.

With over twenty instructors, and three hundred weekly students, VIBE has become the largest performing arts school in the Santa Clarita Valley.
