

FINDING HOPE IN A TIME OF CLIMATE UNCERTAINTY

An Evening of Discussion, Fellowship, and Action

Thursday, January 12, 2017
7-9 p.m.

Lexington Community Center, Room 139
39 Marrett Road, Lexington, MA

During these difficult times, much of the progress we will make on environmental issues will occur on the local and state level. Learn about our ongoing campaigns to reduce our carbon footprint and improve the health of our children and our planet.

This special evening will begin with a brief film, followed by a guided discussion. We will then offer practical ideas for making a difference for the environment in Massachusetts, in Lexington, and in your home.

Now, more than ever, is the time to get off the sidelines and work together to make our planet more livable for our children and for future generations.

MOTHERS OUT FRONT is a grassroots movement that is working toward a sustainable future for our children – a future powered by clean and renewable energy.
