Rapido Trains Inc. is excited to reveal its first modern intermodal products in HO Scale, and they are a pair of absolute classics.

The Gunderson 53' single-unit double-stack well car is the latest iteration of the famous Husky-Stack and every intermodal train includes at least three or four cars of this type. This is accompanied by a newly tooled 53' high-cube container with riveted sheet/post sides and optional heater box/fuel tank.

Over 2,600 cars were built for the TTX Company (DTTX) and Canadian Pacific (CP) and they are seen all over the USA and Canada.

Six numbers per paint scheme will be offered along with undecorated. Each well car comes with two 53' high-cube containers randomly selected from the eight schemes outlined overleaf.

Our well car features a die-cast body with injection moulded plastic end handrails and brake detail with etched metal running boards. The trucks are a brand new free-rolling 70-ton design with three springs visible and 33" wheels designed to the same specification as our highly regarded 52'6" mill gondola. The car is factory-installed with metal Macdonald-Cartier knuckle couplers.

The 53' container introduces a new design never before offered in quality form in HO Scale. The insulated dry boxes are ubiquitous in intermodal trains and are used by Canadian National, Canadian Pacific and a huge number of transportation companies. They are also seen throughout the US Midwest and as far south as New Orleans.

The models also feature an optional heater box and fuel tank.

We will be producing eight paint schemes, four Canadian and four classic US liveries, along with undecorated.
