

Watercolor with Evelyn Dunphy at Anam Cara Artists & Writers Retreat on the Beara, "The Undiscovered Peninsula of Ireland"

September 8 - 15th, 2018

Workshop limited to 8 - 10 artists

Save $200.00 with early registration by January 30, 2018

After several years of going to Anam Cara in the spring, I have planned an autumn workshop for 2018. Having seen the gorgeous photographs of the fields, hedges and mountain sides in the fall, I am very excited to see this for myself. I know it will give us the most beautiful subjects for our paintings.

"This workshop is designed to enable you to approach plein air painting with confidence. From making a good composition to choosing values and colors, you will be rewarded with a painting that is evocative, tells the story, and is a beautiful memory of Ireland.

The glorious light of the Beara Peninsula is an artist's paradise. If it happens to rain, we work in the conservatory at Anam Cara. This gives us a chance to expand on the field work, which is so valuable.

The small workshop size means I can spend as much time with you as you would like. I do demonstrations all day long! Your success is my goal".

My dream is that your time with me at Anam Cara be a true experience of time spent in a small Irish village - more than just a "workshop". As part of this dream, you will enjoy a driving tour of the Beara. One would think that after you have done this once, you would not feel the need to go again. I can assure you that although next year will be my 10th tour, I look forward to it even more every year. Even a week's difference in time means a very different landscape. You have to go over Healey Pass in order to believe it. Not to mention the other places that we see, and stop to explore.

Note that the $200.00 savings for early registration also applies to non-painting companions.
