Back-to-School Supplies Collection

Delivering a smile to child doesn't always have to be around the holidays. IYP's Back-To-School Supplies Collection is an opportunity to help our kids start the school year off right. The anticipation of another school year can raise the level of excitement, especially when you have new supplies to sport. Also, we're asking for supplies to help our Early Childhood and Parenting Program.

Help Inspirica in its efforts to make sure that our children are given every chance to succeed in school. Please help us provide the items below to the children that need it most. These children are coming from circumstances where parents are struggling to provide bare necessities. They need your help!
