“In the light of the moon a little egg lay on a leaf.” So begins that beautiful story of The Very Hungry Caterpillar by Eric Carle. From that egg pops a little very hungry caterpillar. The caterpillar eats through 1 apple, 2 pears, 3 plums, 4 strawberries, 5 oranges, chocolate cake, ice cream, a pickle, swiss cheese, salami, a lollipop, cherry pie, sausage, a cupcake, and watermelon and finally a green leaf. What was once a little caterpillar is now BIG. He builds a cocoon, and then, emerges a butterfly. He is transformed from caterpillar to butterfly.

During this season of stewardship Transformed through Giving, this beloved story came to mind. The transformation from caterpillar to butterfly is one of the best transformations we find in nature. As I thought about this story, I realized that this transformation requires a lot of resources. The hungry caterpillar needed apples, pears, plums, strawberries, oranges, chocolate cake, ice cream, a pickle, swiss cheese, salami, a lollipop, cherry pie, sausage, a cupcake, and watermelon and a green leaf to enact his transformation! In much the same way, God is at work in the world bringing about transformation, but resources are needed to help that transformation take place. God chooses to work in the world by the means of people and resources. God uses our time and our talents as well as our physical resources of money and possessions to make the world new. When we give our offering, we are giving resources to God to utilize in God's transforming work.

I love to give to St. Mark because I know and can see how those resources are at work transforming the world. We offer a place to sleep and three meals to people who are experiencing homelessness. We give young families a place to grow in their faith and find community. We bring community and support to people in times of need such as illness and loss. I see the power of the good news of the gospel work on people in all different times in their life, transforming them, making them new. We give to organizations so that people have food and resources when they need it, access to education, and can hear the transforming Word of God.

I also watch as people here in this place are transformed through the act of giving of their time and talent and their finances. People who have not considered themselves leaders grow in leadership when they say yes to being on council. Community is formed around the tying of quilts or maintenance projects around the church. Joy is discovered in spending time with our youngest members. New skills are learned when people cook for various activities. Our tight grasp and fearful approach to money transforms when we give some of it back to God in thanksgiving for having it in the first place. God uses our resources not just to transform the world, but to transform us as well.

Thank you. Thank you for being part of the transforming work of St. Mark and for being open to God's transformational power at work in your own lives. Together we are Transformed through Giving.

Community Meal—Dinner Church

By Deacon Dave

We have been talking about church on Sunday mornings. In September, we reflected on “Gathering”, the first part of our worship service. We had worship outside, which always makes you think about worship differently without the usual church scenery. As we have prepared for Reformation 500 we have reflected on the Word of God, the Sacraments, and the Body of Christ, which are the pillars of Sunday worship.

On Wednesday afternoons we have been giving worship and church a completely different shape. Instead of using the traditional liturgical shape that we use on Sundays: Gathering, Word, Offering, Meal, and Sending, we have been starting with a different focus. On Wednesdays we begin with the children who are gathered for Wow and shape our worship around them. We gather and process into the transept, sing and learn songs, collect a monetary and spiritual offering (students share their favorite part of Wow and say thank you to God), and then we end with a snack. Parents process in with us or show up midway through the service when their train arrives.

A new component to this year’s Wow worship is that we have dinner once a month for families who participate in Wednesday activities and for anyone who wants to come. We haven’t even been asking people to RSVP. So far, dinner has been much more than just dinner. For our first two dinners we have done devotions, practiced prayers, had meaningful conversations with friends, given offerings, learned about PADs, and had a lot of fun. Beyond all of those things, I sense that the meals have a further sacramental function. We don’t start with the words: “In the night in which he was betrayed, Jesus took the bread...” but we start with the words: “On Sundays we celebrate a very special meal called ‘The Last Supper,’ if it was the LAST supper, then Jesus and his friends had many more meals together and if Jesus thought meals were so important that he gave his friends his most important teaching at one, then there must be something churchy and important about meals. Tonight I hope you meet a new friend, feel closer to an old friend, have a great time, rest, and/or eat a delicious meal.”

As we continue gathering, those are the very same things we will continue cultivating as we celebrate this worship and communion in a different shape. On November 8th we will be joined by Chaplain Leslie Hunter from Holy Family Church and School as we reflect on the power of words and hear Leslie’s stories and poetry. Throughout December we will meet on Sunday afternoons instead of Wednesdays when we will prepare for Christmas by making Advent Wreaths, Christmas cookies, and gingerbread houses. January we will have dinner on Wednesday, January 24th before Mardi Gras Pot-luck the next week and 5 Wednesdays of Lenten Suppers which will give shape to our community meals. Our last two spring dinner churches will be on April 11th and May 9th. Stay tuned to hear who will be joining us for dinner and the fun we are going to have!

Thoughts from the Loft

How does one express thanksgiving through music? By playing or singing loudly? It amazes me that organs can sound as quiet as a whisper and as loud as a trumpet blast! We think, sometimes, that by singing with great fervor we are giving back to the Lord who gave us that gift. However, giving thanks through our music can start with the most timid singer in the pew, or the most heartfelt compliment to any musician sharing their talents in church. So, just remember, even if you don't think of yourself as the best hymn singer, you may be the most devout. Let's all sing a song of Thanksgiving this month!

In peace,
Tim
