Building an Effective QAPI Plan to meet Regulatory Requirements

Many of us have started on QAPI but not really taken it seriously. Those days are quickly coming to an end and you must be ready to hand a formalized and operationalized QAPI Plan over to surveyors when they come for your first survey post November, 27, 2017. We will review and provide guidance for developing that formalized plan with all the necessary components and then discuss methodology for operationalize QAPI to work for you and your team.

Cheryl Parsons is a registered nurse, long-term care administrator, former skilled facility owner, author, long -term care consultant, speaker and informal dispute resolution reviewer. She has over 36 years of combined nursing, administration, ownership and consulting experience in the industry and has received awards in recognition of her accomplishments and dedication to improving long term care. Cheryl speaks passionately about person-centered care and has dedicated a large part of her speaking career to motivating providers at all levels to leave the institutional model behind. She has published two books, "The Core Building Blocks of Quality in LTC," and "The Crucial Role of Social Services in Long Term Care." In addition she has prepared and spoken on over 500 seminar programs on various issues which challenge the industry. In July of 2011 she began work with Primairs, Missouri's Quality Improvement Organization, as an Informal Dispute Resolution Reviewer.
