Stand with Standing Rock

Chief Red Pole Shawnee Peacemaker

Chief Red Pole died while on a business trip to Pittsburgh in January of 1797. We honor his resting place at Trinity Cathedral.

Stand with peacemakers as we offer our spiritual support for the water protectors at Standing Rock, North Dakota, and Indigenous communities fighting for their sovereignty.

Now, more than ever, we must hold each other up with love, kindness, and compassion.

Water will be our blessing. We will pray. We will stand together. We will walk.
