Security Conference

8:30 – 9:00 a.m.	Registration/Continental Breakfast
8:30 – 9:00 a.m.	Registration
9:00 – 9:55 a.m.	State of the Threat Landscape: An Update on the Latest Attacks You Need to Know About Alex Hernandez, VP-Customer Solutions, DefenseStorm In this session we'll identify current IT Threats, issues, and trends that Financial Institutions face today and how to stay steps ahead of bad actors. In addition, we'll provide an inside look into the mind of a cybercriminal and walk through a factious attack, step by step, as you learn the anatomy of a targeted Advanced Persistent Threat (APT). The session will explore methods of reconnaissance, social engineering techniques, detection avoidance methods, and common command & control communications.
9:55 – 10:50 a.m.	Managing Governance to Reduce Cybersecurity Risk Jeffrey Cardone, Partner, Luse Gorman & Benjamin Azoff, Partner, Luse Gorman New cyber security incidents or security breaches make headlines each day, with unanticipated costs affecting an institution's brand, infrastructure and bottom line. The data breaches and systems being compromised remind us that all companies, no matter the size or industry, are being targeted. In addition to viruses and malware, hackers' techniques continue to evolve that can be as simple as an email request or a phone call. Is your bank prepared with a risk management plan that incorporates cybersecurity? This session will take a look at recently publicized cyber events to understand the latest schemes and methods for accessing private data. We will cover best practices that management can use to reduce cyber risk.
10:50 – 11:05 a.m.	Networking Break
11:05 – 12:00 p.m.	Incidence Response Tabletop Exercise Carl Benevento, Technical Account Manager, TAGSolutions This interactive session will take audience members through a cyber breach of a fictitious organization. Participants will see firsthand: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• How the breach occurred.• How it could have been prevented.• The negative outcome on the business.
12:00 – 12:45 p.m.	Lunch
12:50 – 1:40 p.m.	Putting Fraud to the Fire Liz Little, Fraud Consultant, Shazam Fraud is ever-evolving, so what are the latest tactics, trends and tricks that fraudsters are using to try to get your customer's information? You'll learn the common ways fraudsters are gathering card information and what you can do to prevent it. Does law enforcement need to be involved? How are your vendor partners helping and hurting your fraud liability? How do you discuss fraud with the local media? We'll provide you with answers to maximize your fraud prevention efforts and position your institution as a knowledgeable financial leader in your community.
1:40 – 2:30 p.m.	Sex, Lies and Mobile Devices: The Seedy Underworld of Mobile [In]security Reg Harnish, CEO, GreyCastle Security The smartphone in your pocket has transformed, quite literally, every facet of your life. From commerce and communications to entertainment and awareness, mobile devices have become our most prized possessions, almost overnight. But along with these amazing advances in technology have come very serious security and privacy risks, many of which go unnoticed, unmanaged or even unknown. The device in your pocket has become the Big Brother we always feared, and the worst part is this - you agreed to it. Join GreyCastle Security as we demystify the security and privacy risks of your smartphone and provide practical tips for dealing with this new phenomena.
2:30 – 2:40 p.m.	Networking Break
2:40 – 3:30 p.m.	Topic to be Announced Ryan Spelman, GSLC, GCC, Senior Director/Business Development, Center for Internet Security
3:30—4:20 p.m.	If You Think Cybersecurity is About Compliance, You're Already On Your Way Over the Falls Gerald R. Gagne, Member of the Firm, Wolf & Company, P.C. It's been a little over six months since the NYDFS Cybersecurity Regulation went into effect. In 2017 the FDIC continued to roll out their InTReX risk-based IT exam approach and the OCC made enhancements to the cybersecurity assessment tool used in the IT exam process. In the wake of the Equifax breach, what regulatory requirements lie around the corner and how are the threats of today leading to the regulations of tomorrow. Learn what you should be considering in the development of your cybersecurity program to ensure you meet emerging regulatory requirements and most importantly maintain customer trust.
4:20—4:30 pm.	Questions & Answer
4:30 p.m.	Adjourn
