

Project Management Day of Service

On January 16, 2017, Martin Luther King Day, a national day of service, over 28 project management volunteers came together to help launch six critical nonprofit initiatives in the New York area for PMINYC's first Project Management Day of Service (PMDoS®).

Overall, this initiative was done in collaboration with PM4Change who initially formed the PMDoS in the Washington chapter. This event represented $70K in total economic impact of direct skills based service to their respective communities through the nonprofit organizations. BRAVO PMDoS Participants!

The following organizations participated in the initiatives listed:

Society Of Dyslexia

The organization is dedicated to unifying people under the umbrella of dyslexia on Staten Island and promoting a more dyslexic-friendly community. They came to the PMDoS with two goals:

- To help prepare students for the hurdles that they may experience daily in the workplace, and to assist professionals with solutions to daily struggles on their jobs
- To have a directory of supporters and to outline and structure a fund-raising campaign

Kota World Center for Women

The Mission of the Kota World Center for Women in New York City is to equalize the social, political and economic standing of women and men globally by providing the physical and virtual spaces, tools, and services required by civil society organizations (CSOs) contributing to women's empowerment.

Their goal is to get women's enterprises and NGOs excited to join a co-working space BEFORE getting to their long-term goal: to offer space to them at subsidized prices, along with other services. The project aims to reach these women and help branding Kota World in the interim.

Future Leaders in Action

Future Leaders in Action (FLIA) is a nonprofit organization that cultivates leaders and strengthens youth-focused nonprofits by recruiting emerging social sector leaders, known as fellows, to work full-time, on-site with one of our partner organizations.

FLIA is looking to raise a significant amount of funds in FY2017, and to increase the number of people served and bring on at least one additional full-time staff member.

Women's Venture Fund

2017 marks the 20th anniversary of the organization, supporting women entrepreneurs in the Greater NYC area with training programs, business loans and one-on-one advisory. Our mission is to help our clients build scalable businesses to support their families and local communities. Their goal is to develop a process to identify and solicit corporate sponsorship support for our annual conference to take place in mid-June in NYC.

Manhattan Chamber of Commerce

Manhattan Chamber of Commerce is a non-profit organization created to connect, educate, and advocate for businesses in NYC Board of Directors Marketing Committee developed to create a strategic marketing plan.
