

Archbishop Thomas J. Murphy Award Recipients - Priests Panel

Rev. Fr. Jeffrey A. McGowan

Fr. Jeffrey A. McGowan was born and raised in Laurel Springs, New Jersey. He has served as pastor of Queen of Peace in Gainesville, Florida for 27 years. Over the years, the parish worked to build a permanent church, open and build a Catholic elementary school, establish 85 active ministries and all the while tithed 10% of the parish income to outside charities (over and above the Cathedral). Fr. McGowan says, "What I've learned is that the faithful practice we call "Stewardship" is God's best plan for living positive lives. Stewardship places gratitude to God first and I've never met an unhappy grateful person. It invites fuller participation in the Mission of the Church as God's gift of life in action. It gives all Catholic parishioners a faith-filled way of impacting our world with the Good News."

Fr. Charles Mitchell

Fr. Charlie Mitchell a native of West Virginia and current pastor of St Mary Magdalen Parish in Altamonte Springs FL. Fr Charlie has been the pastor at St Mary Magdalen for the last 21 years.
