

Point of Care

You are invited to join a Roche-sponsored lunch symposium with anticoagulation thought leader Alan K. Jacobson, M.D., F.A.C.C., from Loma Linda University School of Medicine to discuss Warfarin Management in the age of DOACs – the role of Point of Care PT/INR and Patient Self Testing.

When are DOACs not the answer for your patients? How can a systematic approach to in-office and in-home PT/INR testing help you to optimize your anticoagulation program?

Dr. Alan Jacobson will present clinical scenarios where Warfarin is still the appropriate anticoagulant therapy of choice. He will share clinical data and outline the benefits of in-office/clinic and patient-self testing options within the context of Systematic Anticoagulation Management.

A plated lunch will be provided.

Friday, April 21st, 2017, 12:30-1:45 p.m.
JW Marriott LA Live, Gold Room 2

Alan K. Jacobson, M.D., F.A.C.C.
Loma Linda University School of Medicine
Associate Chief of Staff/ Research
Director, Anticoagulation Services
Jerry L. Pettis VA Medical Center
Loma Linda, California

Don't wait - seating is limited!

Please RSVP no later than Tuesday, April 18, 2017 by clicking go.roche.com/acforum