

MORE ABOUT THE CAUSE

The Covina Chamber of Commerce is dedicated to giving back to the community and fundraisers such as the golf tournament allow us to proceed with that goal. This year a portion of the proceeds from this tournament will benefit The Police K-9 Program which help to purchase:

- Police Dogs - The cost per dog range between $10,000 and $15,000
- Protective Gear for K9's
- Veterinarian Bills Over and Above Budget
- Special Training - The cost of specialized training can cost an additional $15,000

Based on generous donations from the community, including the Covina Chamber of Commerce, in 2015 the Covina Police Department was able to re-implement the K-9 program. Recently, a Belgian Malinois from Holland was purchased, trained with Police Officer Ryan Rasmussen and now serves the citizens of Covina. The K-9 program serves to enhance officer safety, promotes public relations, community awareness and helps peacefully resolve conflicts. Policing assets such as the K-9, place a great deal of strain on budgets and without the partnership between the community and the police department, programs such as these would be difficult, at best, to support. As the police department moves forward, we hope to expand this valuable program by maintaining the critical community partnerships we have cultivated, and focus on cross training our K-9 in the areas of narcotics and/or bomb detection. Additionally, we are focused on adding a second K-9 to our patrol team and donations will assist in the purchase and training of the K9 and help to expand this valuable program!
