

New Hampshire Seacoast Code Officials Association
Membership Meeting & Educational Lecture
March 22, 2017

2015 IFC ESSENTIALS

This seminar will introduce: The application of the IFC administrative requirements, occupancy classification, general precautions against fire, emergency planning and preparedness, fire service features, interior finish, decorative materials and furnishings, fire protection systems, means of egress, and provide an introduction to hazardous materials. Activities and discussions will further enhance participant learning.

Above is the official description of the course and, as you can see, there is something for every for code official. We are all interested in safety of the materials used, the egress, and occupancy classification and these are all things we encounter in plan review.

Presented by ICC's Rob Neale

Attached is Rob Neale's extensive biography detailing his years of affiliation with the ICC, in the Fire Service and as an educator. It's been more than rumored that Rob is one of ICC's best presenters and he is sure to hold your interest.
