PASSOVER WORKSHOP:

A Tale of Two Origins

Educator: Rabbi Dina Shargel

Before we eat the Seder meal, we encounter two different scripts for the story of our biblical origins, and the ritual foods themselves embody contrasting ideas. Join us for some text study and discussion of dualities in the Haggadah, considering conflicting interpretations with an eye to enhancing our understanding and appreciation of freedom. Haggadot will be provided, but feel free to bring your own if you wish.

Sunday, March 26, 2017

10:45 am-11:45 am

To register, contact Rabbi Shargel at rabbishargel@gmail.com or call (914) 948-2800, ext.121.
