From Isolationism to Integration: New Developments in the Israeli Haredi Community that Just Might Change Israeli Society as We Know It

Speaker: Menachem Bombach

Menachem Bombach is a senior staff member at the Mandel School for Educational Leadership. He currently leads the Berdichev Hassidic community in Beitar Illit. His main areas of interest are education, managing education systems, and intercultural dialogue. Menachem is a member of Shaharit's Haredi leadership development team.

Shaharit is a think tank that brings together Israelis from diverse ethnic, religious, and sociological backgrounds to create a different kind of Israeli politics by creating strong relationships and building trust.

Shaharit is a home for diverse Israeli movements, where different communities turn their faces toward, not away from, each other.
