

OSHA Focus 4 On-Site Safety Training

Learn about the top four causes of workplace accidents in construction and where most fines are assessed.

This format of safety education is designed to provide training for on-site subcontractor workers, superintendents and management focusing on the four major causes of accidents and fatalities in residential construction.

The HBRA Safety Committee through our OSHA Alliance with Federal and State OSHA will hold several of these on-site safety training sessions on a variety of active sites this spring and early summer.
