Bourbon Highway is bringing fun country and Americana vibes to a city that has ached for it. Nowhere among the many restaurants of Walnut Creek can one find anything like what Bourbon Highway is offering. Our team has brought country music, upbeat energy, games, and now a top-notch menu created by Chef Frank Miller.

About the Menu:

The menu concept for Bourbon Highway's cuisine "regional southern cooking" is born out of the relationship between Kentucky's bourbon trail and the rest of the south. The bottom beat of our cooking is highly influenced by America's greatest food city, "New Orleans," responsible for more globally iconic dishes than any other city in the world. Many of our incredible seafood dishes are influenced by the Carolinas, Florida and Louisiana's bayous. The inspiration behind our barbecue sauces come from the center of the southern region we celebrate, Tennessee, Alabama, Georgia and Mississippi. Crafted by Chef Frank Miller and the Bourbon Highway culinary team into an exciting, wood-fire driven, multi texture, multi temperature, regional southern fusion style of cuisine utilizing the most vibrant locally resourced ingredients possible.
