Ethical Myths and Mysteries

September 22, 2017

9:00 a.m. to 12:45 p.m.

CORA Conference Center

Presenter:

Linda K. Knauss, Ph.D., ABPP is a Professor at Widener University's Institute for Graduate Clinical Psychology. She has served as the Chair of the American Psychological Association's Ethics Committee, the Pennsylvania Psychological Association's Ethics Committee, and has served as Co-chair of the Philadelphia Society of Clinical Psychologists' Ethics Committee. She is also a member of the Ethics Committee of the American Board of Professional Psychology. Dr. Knauss has taught courses in ethics at Widener University, Immaculata College, and the Philadelphia College of Osteopathic Medicine. She has authored several Book Chapters and journal articles on ethics, and has taught many continuing education workshops on a variety of ethical issues. She is also a member of the American Psychological Association's Council of Representatives. Besides her teaching, Dr. Knauss also maintains a private clinical practice where she sees children, adolescents, adults and families.

Purpose:

This workshop will look at some common risk management and ethical beliefs and examine the rationale behind them. Do these ideas originate in professional standards, principle-based ethics, or are they myths? Clinical vignettes will be presented and participants are encouraged to share their own ethical dilemmas.

Intended Audience:

This program will benefit Psychologists, Social Workers, Mental Health Counselors, Educators, Principals, Teachers, Graduate Students, and other practitioners within mental health and education who provide direct services and/or parent/teacher consultation for this population.

Objectives:

As a result of this interactive workshop, participants will be able to:

- Identify common beliefs that are not based on overarching ethical principles.
- Describe the methodology to be used to identify false or unhelpful ethical or risk management principles.
- Improve ethical decision making skills
